MUDDY WATERS NEARING MARK OF 1927 DISASTER

HUNDREDS OF VOLUNTEERS AT WORK STRENGTHENING LEVEES

FIVE TOWNS UNDER WATER IN LOUISIANA, COMMUNICATION WIRES DOWN

Shreveport, La., May 28.—(U.P.)—Muddy waters of the Red river at a flood peak comparable to that of the 1927 disaster moved toward the Mississippi today, with hundreds of volunteers at work strengthening levees in threatened areas.

Five towns were under water today, between 3,000 and 5,000 persons were homeless, communication lines down and several main highways inundated. State Rep. James Aswell termed the flood "more grave in this section than that of 1927."

But one death was reported. William Lafoon was drowned in Grant Parish, under water. Chousshatta was nearly surrounded by the overflow and small hills that rose above the flood, held refugees.

New levees were being built to protect farm lands southeast of Natchitoches. At Alexandria, where the flood crest is due in a few days, levees were raised.

Red Cross workers used boats to carry food and clothing to stranded, and reports reached Natchitoches that there was a scarcity of food in many makeshift refugee camps.

"RADIO EYE" FOR AIRPLANES HAS BEEN CREATED

ENABLES FLIER TO SEE THRU DENSEST FOG THAT EXISTS

LABORATORY OF JOHN HAYS HAMMOND, JR., WHERE INVENTION WAS MADE

Gloucester, Mass., May 28.—(U.P.)—A "radio eye" for airplanes, enabling a flier to see through the densest fog, has been created in the laboratory of John Hays Hammond, Jr.

The inventor, famed for his radio research work, believes that this latest product of his genius represents a major step toward alleviating the air's greatest hazard.

In the operation of the new device, three radio compass stations equipped with direction finders are located along side the airport. Above the field an automatic radio transmitter broadcasts a continuous signal.

Operators at the compass stations train their direction finders on it and bearings thus taken are transmitted automatically by wire to a television station near the airport. The point where the three bearings cross indicates the exact position of the plane in the sky.

Above the miniature airport which has been used in the Hammond experiments is a "television eye." Movement of the eye, which represents the airplane, is controlled by three arms representing the radio bearings taken by the compass stations. Just as microphone is linked with a broadcast transmitter, the eye is connected with the television station.

As the plane moves the model field rotates under the eye as a matter of convenience, because the television apparatus is too cumbersome to rotate. In effect, this is the same as the eye moving to correspond with the plane's position. The pilot sees a speck move across a small television screen in front of him in the cockpit. That speck is the plane. The screen presents a clear picture of the landing field below, regardless of the density of fog.

DEAD TWO DAYS AS HE SAT IN ROCKING CHAIR

Alexandria, Va., May 28.—(U.P.)—For two days Albert P. Motley, 59, reclined comfortably in his rocking chair, a newspaper across his knees, his eyes closed.

Members of his family entered the room, thought him asleep and tip-toed away to avoid awakening him. Late yesterday his sister Mrs. Kate Faulkner, attempted to arouse him. When he did not respond, she called a doctor.

The physician said the man had been dead for two days.

Doctor Suffers From Triple Skull Fracture

Little Falls, Minn., May 28.—(U.P.)—Suffering from a triple skull fracture, Dr. Knud D. Holmgren, Upsala physician, injured yesterday by an explosion in his clinic, remained in critical condition today.

DIRIGIBLE GRAF ZEPPELIN LEAVES FOR HAVANA, CUBA

Pernambuco, Brazil, May 28.—(U.P.)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin departed for Havana and Lakehurst, N. J., at 11:33 a. m. (8:30 a. m. C.S.T.) today, after being delayed several hours by rain.

The passengers had been at the Giquia airdrome since 6 a. m. and had boarded the ship early in preparation for departure. A heavy rain delayed the decision to start northward on the flight of more than 4,500 miles and the passengers left the ship.

The skies cleared later and Dr. Hugo Eckener decided to start despite reports of unfavorable weather prevailing in the states of Para and Ceara.

The Graf Zeppelin, which flew here from Friedrichshafen, Germany, last week and added a flight to Rio de Janeiro and return to its record over the week end, was scheduled to reach Cuba about Saturday and the dates of arrival were indefinite.

Rio de Janeiro, May 28.—(U.P.)—The Graf Zeppelin, enroute from Pernambuco to Havana, flew over Natal, on the northeastern tip of the continent, at 2:20 p. m. (11:20 a. m. C.S.T.), the National Telegraph announced.

BANDITS TRAIL JEWEL SALESMAN, STEAL FORTUNE

A. D. DALLAH, DULUTH, ROBBED OF $5,000 TO $6,000 WORTH OF GEMS

SEDAN FORCED TO SIDE OF THE ROAD NEAR IRON RIVER, WISCONSIN

Iron River, Wis., May 28.—(U.P.)—Trailing a jewelry salesman carrying two cases containing between $5,000 and $6,000 worth of gems, three young men in a sedan forced A. D. Dallah of Duluth to the side of the road today and escaped with the two suitcases.

The robbery took place four miles east of Iron River on U. S. highway No. 2. Dallah said he noticed the sedan following him for some distance but thought nothing of it since it was noon time. Suddenly, Dallah said, the sedan shot ahead of him and backed cross-wise on the highway. Dallah drew his car up to the side of the road and stopped.

The three men advanced unmasked and unarmed. One of them grabbed Dallah by the arms while a second struck Joseph Albert, 18, Duluth, Dallah's chauffeur, over the head. Albert was knocked to the ground.

The third man entered Dallah's car and removed the two cases of jewels. After placing them in the sedan, he returned to relieve Dallah of his watch and $11 in money. The three then ordered the men to remain out of their car until they had disappeared out of sight.

The three in the sedan sped away in an easterly direction.

BANKERS PLEASED BY RECEPTION

Have Words of Praise for Committees Who Planned Convention Arrangements

BANQUET VERY PLEASING

Ladies of Eastern Star Served the Excellent Banquet Menu at Iron Exchange Hall

With the close of the bankers convention in Brainerd late this afternoon, local committees were pleased to hear the many words of commendation expressed by the delegates and their ladies.

On the general committee were George D. LaBar, F. A. Farrar and B. L. Lagerquist of the First National bank and R. J. Tinkelpaugh and Elmer O. Olson of the Citizens State bank. The committee in charge of entertainment for the ladies included Mrs. George D. LaBar, Mrs. F. A. Farrar, Mrs. W. H. Cleary of the First National bank and Mrs. R. J. Tinkelpaugh, Mrs. Elmer O. Olson and Mrs. M. E. Ryan of the Citizens State bank.

The ladies of the Eastern Star served the banquet and every course was most delicious. The lemon cream pie was such a delicacy that any number asked for more.

The banquet program ran true to schedule and closed in time to permit all diners to attend the Paramount theatre. Today golfing at the Brainerd Country and Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel course is being enjoyed.

Turner Claims New Record for East-West Flight Across the American Continent

MAKES CROSSING IN 18 HOURS AND 44 MINUTES

FLEW FROM ROOSEVELT FIELD, LONG ISLAND, TO LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

FROM WICHITA, KANSAS, ON HE BATTLED STRONG HEAD WINDS

Los Angeles, Calif., May 28.—(U.P.)—Col. Roscoe Turner today claimed a new record for an east-west flight across the continent.

After battling headwinds for fully half the way from New York Turner landed his Lockheed Express plane at Grand Central airport last night at 7:46:34 o'clock (PST.) just 18 hours and 44 minutes after leaving Roosevelt Field, L. I.

His time, as recorded by Joe Niker of the National Aeronautical Association, was just 28 minutes and 58 seconds better than the previous record held by Capt. Frank M. Hawks, who flew the route in a nonstop flight in 1929. Col. Turner made one stop at Wichita, Kan.

Until he reached Wichita, Col. Turner said he had met with excellent flying conditions, but from there across the Rockies and on to Los Angeles, his course was beset by strong head winds and a storm.

"If it hadn't been for these conditions I'd have made it here before dark," Turner said. That would have put him on the ground an hour earlier.

Landing in the white swath of giant arc lights, Turner was given an ovation by 1,000 persons who had waited forward to greet him. His wife was among the group, and hastened to kiss her husband as he stepped from the plane.

The primary purpose of the flight was not to break any record, but to gather information on flying conditions which would prove useful in the establishment of a trans-continental air express service, now under consideration.

Turner, in both yesterday's flight and the one he made recently from here to New York, flew at different altitudes to study which would be the most suitable for fast planes operating in a regular service.

"We expect eventually to start a line which will offer a regular 18-hour service across the country," he said.

TWO MEN RECOVERING FROM AUTO ACCIDENT

Willmar, Minn., May 28.—(U.P.)—Arnold Nelson, 24, and F. F. McKenzie, 57, both of Bellingham, were recovering today in the hospital from injuries sustained when their car was struck by a train near here.

The locomotive tossed the car on one side of the track, hurling the men from their seats. They were picked up 30 feet from the car, seriously injured.

MAIL PILOT IN CRASH AND INJURED

Princeton, Ind., May 28.—(U.P.)—Norman Wise, 35, Evansville, was believed seriously injured today when the mail plane he was piloting crashed. Wise was rushed to a hospital where he was still unconscious two hours after the crash. Physicians said his face was badly lacerated and loss of sight in the right eye was certain.

The seizure is said to be the largest in the history of the United States. Three men were arrested and they gave the following names: Pericle Manneri, Joseph Negris, Mattio Mattered.

BOMBAY GETS IN A MUCH QUIETER MOOD

TUMULTUOUS AND BLOODY RIOTING KEPT CITY ON EDGE FOR PAST 2 DAYS

REST OF INDIA APPEARS TO SHARE THE SAME COMPARATIVE CALM

By WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Bombay, May 28.—Bombay reached the middle of the week in a much quieter mood today after the tumultuous and bloody rioting which kept the city on tenter-hooks for the past two days.

The rest of India appeared to share the comparative calm, judging from the absence of reports telling of serious disturbances. The rebellion movement. The interlude was used for checking over the casualties from the disorders which Monday and Tuesday two of the most terrible days since Mahatma Gandhi and a few followers began the march from Ahmadabad to Dandi, which instituted the passive resistance campaign against British rule.

Across the Bay of Bengal, however, in Burma, communal rioting of the past two days was continued at Rangoon, despite the presence of British troops. Several Europeans were reported attacked, although none were among the many dead.

The total dead in India and Burma since Sunday totalled 82, of whom 63 were killed at Rangoon in the street fighting between striking dock workers and strike breakers. Fifteen Indian coolie women were among those killed at Rangoon.

Four of the dead were Mohammedans slain here in the two days of rioting which began when a soldier's dog was kicked by a native. The national congress claimed two other natives were slain.

Of the remaining dead, 14 were slain at Dacca during a bloody weekend, and one officer, Superintendent of Police D. B. Murphy, was killed at Mardan, in the Peshawar district. Injuries reported from the various riots totalled 878, of whom 746 were at Rangoon and 72 here.

Despite the quiet in Bombay today, there was some nervousness on the part of the European population that the feelings of natives against the foreigners had been inflamed to a dangerous point. The Mohammedan attack on a physician's son as he was motoring through the city Monday night, and other isolated incidents of natives forcing Europeans to remove their hats, which were burned, were regarded as indications that the feeling against Europeans was more intense than at any other time since the rebellion started.

JURY DISAGREES IN McFERRAN CASE

Retrial of Driver Charged With Manslaughter Continued Over Term

JURY STOOD SEVEN TO FIVE
Dismissed by Judge B. F. Wright After Failing to Agree in 16 Hours

A jury's failure to agree on a verdict has resulted in the continuance of the trial charging Dwight "Mickey" McFerran with manslaughter in the second degree in connection with the death of Lucille Preston in an automobile accident on Ash avenue October 15 last.

The jury was dismissed by Judge B. F. Wright at 9:12 a. m. today when it returned to announce that an agreement was impossible. The jury had deliberated over 16 hours.

It was reported that the jury stood seven to five for conviction on the final ballot. The case completed the criminal calendar at this term of district court.

SMOOT-HAWLEY BILL GOES BACK TO CONFERENCE

$63,000,000 TARIFF MEASURE BACK FOR FURTHER CONSIDERATION

ACTION OF VICE PRESIDENT CURTIS IS NOW TOPIC OF DISCUSSION

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 28.—Whether Vice President Curtis acted to aid President Hoover when he sent the $63,000,000 Smoot-Hawley tariff bill back to conference was the prime question of debate today among congressional authorities and political observers.

Republican chiefs like Floor Leader Watson and Chairman Smoot denied the administrators had turned against the bill. Minority leaders like Robinson of Arkansas and Harrison of Mississippi openly charged the Curtis ruling, sending the bill back to conference for revision, was part of a republican effort to kill the measure by delaying it.

Democrats have been encouraged to believe republicans have lost some enthusiasm for the bill because of the large number of foreign protests, and others such as that signed by more than 1,000 economists recently. Though word has spread around the capitol that President Hoover stands ready to sign the bill provided he is allowed to retain control of the flexible provision, democrats insist he would be relieved of embarrassment if congress let the bill die in conference.

Curtis has kept his own counsel. His friends assert his action was dictated by the senate rules. They maintain he was compelled to rule that the senate conferees exceeded their authority when they wrote the new compromise flexible provision in the bill.

The effect of his action will, however, cause a delay of at least a week and probably more in consideration of the bill in the senate.

Smoot announced he would summon the conferees to meet again tomorrow to see if they can eliminate the matter which Curtis found objectionable. He declined to explain why he refused to permit Curtis to act on four other points of order in connection with the bill in order to speed the legislation. He denied emphatically, however, that his unusual course was dictated by any desire to stifle the measure now in its final stages.

While the senate considered a measure to build up the merchant marine by subsidies, the house today renewed its efforts to dispose of the Muscle Shoals problem.

Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, was expected to renew the plea he made late yesterday for a clause in the subsidy bill to deny its benefits to any companies having connections with foreign flag ships.

The Muscle Shoals issue was before the house again in the form of the Reece resolution to lease the war-time power and nitrate plant to a private concern. This was reported out by the house military affairs committee as an "amended" form of the Norris senate resolution, though the latter provides for government operation of the shoals.

The senate foreign relations and naval affairs committees continued their hearings today on the London naval treaty, which the senate will take up in special session. The lobby committee planned to seek further evidence about the activities of dry organizations.

Meanwhile, on the house side, the naval affairs committee was scheduled to continue its hearings on selection of a site for a west coast dirigible base. The banking and currency committee planned to pursue its inquiry into branch and chain banking.

MICHAEL J. GIBBONS IN TRAINING FOR POLITICAL BOUT

St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—(U.P.)—Michael J. Gibbons, one time St. Paul's contender for the middleweight championship, today was in training for his first political bout.

Just before the deadline for filings for county offices yesterday, "Mike" entered his petition as a candidate for sheriff of Ramsey county. Supporters tried to prevail on "Mike" or his brother, Tom Gibbons, who fought Jack Dempsey at Shelby, Mont., to enter the sheriff race. Until the last minute the Gibbons were unconvinced.

Then "Mike" decided he would seek the office and hurried to the county auditor's office just a few minutes before the deadline for "weighing in."

DEETS PICKETT SPEAKS OF M. E. TEMPERANCE BOARD

Washington, May 28.—(U.P.)—The Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals spent $155,616 last year, urging strict prohibition enforcement and opposing gambling, Deets Pickett, research secretary of the board, told the senate lobby committee today.

Receipts were $148,191 in 1927; $130,729 in 1928 and $163,346 in 1929, Pickett said. Expenditures were $141,539 in 1927; $128,269 in 1928 and $155,616 in 1929.

Washington, May 28.—(U.P.)—A card index showing the religion of each member of congress and of public officials is kept by the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, its research secretary, Deets Pickett, told the senate lobby committee today.

Pickett said he considered most Catholics wet, so that when he found a man was a member of that church "it raises a question of his dryness."

SEEK CAUSE OF OKLAHOMA CITY FIRE

DESTROYED $250,000 STOCKYARDS COLISEUM THERE YES-TERDAY

FIVE MEN LOST THEIR LIVES AND THREE WERE SEVERELY INJURED

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 28.—(U.P.)—State and city authorities sought without success today the cause of a fire which destroyed the $250,000 stockyards coliseum here yesterday.

Five men lost their lives and three were severely injured when the walls of the big building collapsed upon them as they attempted to save several hundred automobiles which had been stored in the coliseum. A final check today indicated that all of the missing had been accounted for.

Twenty-three of the automobiles had been removed when the gasoline tanks of the stored cars began exploding. The force of the successive explosions caused the high brick walls to crumble, burying the workers under tons of debris and cutting off the escape of others.

E. G. Cooper, deputy state fire marshal, headed the state investigation of the tragedy and George Goff of the Oklahoma City fire department represented the city. Preliminary surveys failed to uncover the cause of the blaze which started in a sawdust ring in the center of the auditorium.

The dead have been identified as R. A. Mason, fireman; Gordon Smith, used car dealer; Thomas Smith, messenger for Morris & Company; Dave Misler, employee of the G. A. Nichols Realty Company, and a negro laborer.

CLOSED STATE BANK PAYS FINAL DIVIDEND

St. Paul, May 28.—(U.P.)—Fourth and final dividend, 7.95 per cent, amounting to $9,410.75, was paid today to depositors in the Farmers' State Bank of Pemberton. Today's payment brought to 97.95 per cent of the total amount repaid since the bank was closed Dec. 14, 1927.

MEMORIAL DAY CHANGES MADE

High School Girls Double Quartet to Sing at Cemetery; Plans Complete

The executive committee planning Memorial Day announced today new changes in the program.

The high school girls double quartet will appear in the program at the cemetery in place of the male quartet while the Brainerd ladies band will also take an active part in the parade and at Evergreen.

In the arrangements for Memorial Day, Friday, the committee has endeavored to conduct the program in conformity to the wishes and customs of the G. A. R. organization who established the Memorial Day observance many years ago under their leader General John A. Logan.

Their ritual is followed in the annual ceremonies at the cemetery.

"The G. A. R. veterans are rapidly falling out of line and their places will soon be taken by the veterans of the more recent struggles. Until the last of these Civil war heroes have answered the last roll call, no one will question the propriety of giving the G. A. R. first consideration in Memorial Day and following their wishes in the mode of observing the day," W. C. Cobb, superintendent of schools and a member of the committee on preparations said today.

REPLY TO WETS ATTEMPTS TO DISRUPT RANKS

TONS OF LITERATURE, SOUND MOVIE ADDRESSES TO BE USED

THOUSANDS OF MEETINGS TO BE HELD IN COMING DRIVE

Des Moines, Iowa, May 28.—(U.P.)—The Anti-Saloon League has mapped out a modern and vigorous campaign in reply to efforts by wets to disrupt its ranks. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent, said here today.

Tons of literature, sound movie addresses and thousands of meetings will be the means used in the drive, the dry leader said.

He declared recent activities of wet organizations are of little immediate concern, but that they have necessitated an educational campaign that will inform the people for all time of the evils of alcohol.

"The campaign will be a business-like one," McBride said. "We intend to bombard the country with literature from our printing plant at Westerville, O., which has an output of several tons of material daily."

"We will use the sound movies which will bring the drama of prohibition to the people, talks on radios and thousands of meetings. The campaign will be conducted through education, agitation and legislation."

"It's going to take the wets a long time to prove there is a revolt against prohibition," McBride said. "The people are for prohibition."

20 WITNESSES TO BE HEARD IN FUR CASE

DEFUNCT TEN THOUSAND LAKES FUR FARM CORPORATION AFFAIRS AIRED

GOV. CHRISTIANSON QUESTIONED BY JURY FOR 2 HOURS AND 10 MINUTES

St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—(U.P.)—Federal grand jurors listening to the stories of how the defunct Ten Thousand Lakes Fur Farms Corporation obtained thousands of dollars from northwest investors today had some 20 witnesses to hear before a Memorial Day recess.

Late yesterday Governor Theodore Christianson was questioned for two hours and 10 minutes. While the questions that were put to the governor were not definitely known, rumors reported that the chief executive had been questioned regarding his conference with Floyd B. Olson, Hennepin county district attorney who investigated the fur farms corporation, regarding the governor's own investigation of the fur farms through the state securities commission and regarding a letter he had written on the general subject of fur farming.

When he came out of the jury room, the governor said he had had a "pleasant afternoon" and chatted with newspapermen and others in the ante room of the grand jury.

The governor left immediately for Hutchinson, Minn., where he delivered a high school graduation address.

AS WAR GHOST, ROLAND W. QUINN IS LIVELY VETERAN

St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—(U.P.)—Roland W. Quinn, attorney and world war veteran, proved today that, when it comes to speaking, ghosts deserve a more lively reputation.

Quinn was asked to give a Memorial day talk at Central high school today, then someone looked up his record. On the honor scroll of the school's war dead, Quinn's name was listed as "killed in action." The service flag carried a gold star in his memory.

Asserting that there must have been some mistake, Quinn consented to speak to prove his point.

RANG COWBELLS WHEN SHE WAS ILL

West Palm Beach, Fla., May 28.—(U.P.)—Her healthy husband rang cowbells and hid alarm clocks all over the place when she was ill with a nervous breakdown. Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Brooks charged in a suit for divorce from Reginald Brooks, of Palm Beach and New York.

His time, as recorded by Joe Nikrent of the National Aeronautical Association, was just 28 minutes and 58 seconds better than the previous record held by Capt. Frank M. Hawks, who flew the route in a nonstop flight in 1929. Col. Turner made one stop at Wichita, Kan.

Until he reached Wichita, Col. Turner said he had met with excellent flying conditions, but from there across the Rockies and on to Los Angeles, his course was beset by strong head winds and a storm.

"If it hadn't been for these conditions I'd have made it here before dark," Turner said. That would have put him on the ground an hour earlier.

Landing in the white swath of giant air lights, Turner was given an ovation by 1,000 persons who had waited past his expected arrival and rushed forward to greet him. His wife was among the group, and hastened to kiss her husband as he stepped from the plane.

The primary purpose of the flight was not to break any record, but to gather information on flying conditions which would prove useful in the establishment of a trans-continental air express service, now under consideration.

Turner, in both yesterday's flight and the one he made recently from here to New York, flew at different altitudes to study which would be the most suitable for fast planes operating in a regular service.

"We expect eventually to start a line which will offer a regular 18-hour service across the country," he said.

TWO MEN RECOVERING FROM AUTO ACCIDENT

Willmar, Minn., May 28.—(U.P.)—Arnold Nelson, 24, and F. F. McKenzie, 57, both of Bellingham, were recovered today in the hospital from injuries sustained when their car was struck by a train near here.

The locomotive tossed the car on one side of the track, hurling the men from their seats. They were picked up 30 feet from the car, seriously injured.

MAIL PILOT IN CRASH AND INJURED

Princeton, Ind., May 28.—(U.P.)—Norman Wise, 35, Evansville, was believed seriously injured today when the mail plane he was piloting crashed.

Wise was rushed to a hospital where he was still unconscious two hours after the crash. Physicians said his face was badly lacerated and loss of sight in the right eye was certain.

New York, May 28.—(U.P.)—More than $1,000,000 in counterfeit bank notes was reported to have been seized by secret service operators in a raid today on Brooklyn.

The seizure is said to be the largest in the history of the United States. Three men were arrested and they gave the following names: Pericle Manner, Joseph Negrin, Mattio Mattered.

BOMBAY GETS IN A MUCH QUIETER MOOD

TUMULTUOUS AND BLOODY RIOT-
ING KEPT CITY ON EDGE
FOR PAST 2 DAYS

REST OF INDIA APPEARS TO SHARE THE SAME COMPARA-TIVE CALM

By WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Bombay, May 28.—Bombay reached the middle of the week in a much quieter mood today after the tumultuous and bloody rioting which kept the city on tenter-hooks for the past two days.

The rest of India appeared to share the comparative calm, judging from the absence of reports telling of serious disturbances in the rebellion movement. The interlude was used for checking over the casualties from the disorders which Monday and Tuesday two of the most terrible days since Mahatma Gandhi and a few followers began the march from Ahmadabad to Dandi, which instituted the passive resistance campaign against British rule.

Across the Bay of Bengal, however, in Burma, communal rioting of the past two days was continued at Rangoon, despite the presence of British troops. Several Europeans were reported attacked, although none were among the many dead.

The total dead in India and Burma since Sunday totaled 82, of whom 63 were killed at Rangoon in the street fighting between striking dock workers and strike breakers. Fifteen Indian coolie women were among those killed at Rangoon.

Four of the dead were Mohammedans slain here in the two days of rioting which began when a soldier's dog was kicked by a native. The national congress claimed two other natives were slain.

Of the remaining dead, 14 were slain at Dacca during a bloody weekend, and one officer, Superintendent of Police D. B. Murphy, was killed at Mardan, in the Peshawar district. Injuries reported from the various riots totaled 878, of whom 746 were at Rangoon and 72 here.

Despite the quiet in Bombay today, there was some nervousness on the part of the European population that the feelings of natives against the foreigners had been inflamed to a dangerous point. The Mohammedan attack on a physician's son as he was motoring through the city Monday night, and other isolated incidents of natives forcing Europeans to remove their hats, which were burned, were regarded as indications that the feeling against Europeans was more intense than at any other time since the rebellion started.

JURY DISAGREES IN McFERRAN CASE

Retrial of Driver Charged With Manslaughter Continued
Over Term

JURY STOOD SEVEN TO FIVE
Dismissed by Judge B. F. Wright
After Failing to Agree
in 16 Hours

A jury's failure to agree on a verdict has resulted in the continuance of the trial charging Dwight "Mickey" McFerran with manslaughter in the second degree in connection with the death of Lucille Preston in an automobile accident on Ash avenue October 15 last.

The jury was dismissed by Judge B. F. Wright at 9:12 a. m. today when it returned to announce that an agreement was impossible. The jury had deliberated over 16 hours.

It was reported that the jury stood seven to five for conviction on the final ballot.

The case completed the criminal calendar at this term of district court.

SMOOT-HAWLEY BILL GOES BACK TO CONFERENCE

$63,000,000 TARIFF MEASURE BACK
FOR FURTHER CON-SIDERATION

ACTION OF VICE PRESIDENT
CURTIS IS NOW TOPIC OF DISCUSSION

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 28.—Whether Vice-President Curtis acted to aid President Hoover when he sent the $63,000,000 Smoot-Hawley tariff bill back to conference was the prime question of debate today among congressional authorities and political observers.

Republican chiefs like Floor Leader Watson and Chairman Smoot denied the administrators had turned against the bill. Minority leaders like Robinson of Arkansas and Harrison of Mississippi openly charged the Curtis ruling, sending the bill back to conference for revision, was part of a republican effort to kill the measure by delaying it.

Democrats have been encouraged to believe republicans have lost some enthusiasm for the bill because of the large number of foreign protests, and others such as that signed by more than 1,000 economists recently. Though word has spread around the capitol that President Hoover stands ready to sign the bill provided he is allowed to retain control of the flexible provision, democrats insist he would be relieved of embarrassment if congress let the bill die in conference.

Curtis has kept his own counsel. His friends assert his action was dictated by the senate rules. They maintain he was compelled to rule that the senate conferees exceeded their authority when they wrote the new compromise flexible provision in the bill.

The effect of his action will, however, cause a delay of at least a week and probably more in consideration of the bill in the senate.

Smoot announced he would summon the conferees to meet again tomorrow to see if they can eliminate the matter which Curtis found objectionable. He declined to explain why he refused to permit Curtis to act on four other points of order in connection with the bill in order to speed the legislation. He denied emphatically, however, that his unusual course was dictated by any desire to stifle the measure now in its final stages.

While the senate considered a measure to build up the merchant marine by subsidies, the house today renewed its efforts to dispose of the Muscle Shoals problem.

Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, was expected to renew the plea he made late yesterday for a clause in the subsidy bill to deny its benefits to any companies having connections with foreign flag ships.

The Muscle Shoals issue was before the house again in the form of the Reece resolution to lease the war-time power and nitrate plant to a private concern. This was reported out by the house military affairs committee as an "amended" form of the Norris senate resolution, though the latter provides for government operation of the shoals.

The senate foreign relations and naval affairs committees continued their hearings today on the London naval treaty, which the senate will take up in special session. The lobby committee planned to seek further evidence about the activities of dry organizations.

Meanwhile, on the house side, the naval affairs committee was scheduled to continue its hearings on selection of a site for a west coast dirigible base. The banking and currency committee planned to pursue its inquiry into branch and chain banking.

MICHAEL J. GIBBONS IN TRAINING FOR POLITICAL BOUT

St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—(U.P.)—Michael J. Gibbons, one time St. Paul's contender for the middleweight championship, today was in training for his first political bout.

Just before the deadline for filings for county offices yesterday, "Mike" entered his petition as a candidate for sheriff of Ramsey county. Supporters tried to prevail on "Mike" or his brother, Tom Gibbons, who fought Jack Dempsey at Shelby, Mont., to enter the sheriff race. Until the last minute the Gibbons were unconvinced.

Then "Mike" decided he would seek the office and hurried to the county auditor's office just a few minutes before the deadline for "weighing in."

DEETS PICKETT SPEAKS OF M. E. TEMPERANCE BOARD

Washington, May 28.—(U.P.)—The Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals spent $155,616 last year, urging strict prohibition enforcement and opposing gambling, Deets Pickett, research secretary of the board, told the senate lobby committee today.

Receipts were $148,191 in 1927; $130,729 in 1928 and $163,346 in 1929, Pickett said. Expenditures were $141,539 in 1927; $128,269 in 1928 and $155,616 in 1929.

Washington, May 28.—(U.P.)—A card index showing the religion of each member of congress and of public officials is kept by the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, its research secretary, Deets Pickett, told the senate lobby committee today.

Pickett said he considered most Catholics wet, so that when he found a man was a member of that church "it raises a question of his dryness."

SEEK CAUSE OF OKLAHOMA CITY FIRE

DESTROYED $250,000 STOCKYARDS
COLISEUM THERE YES-TERDAY

FIVE MEN LOST THEIR LIVES
AND THREE WERE SE-
VERELY INJURED

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 28.—(U.P.)—State and city authorities sought without success today the cause of a fire which destroyed the $250,000 stockyards coliseum here yesterday.

Five men lost their lives and three were severely injured when the walls of the big building collapsed upon them as they attempted to save several hundred automobiles which had been stored in the coliseum. A final check today indicated that all of the missing had been accounted for.

Twenty-three of the automobiles had been removed when the gasoline tanks of the stored cars began exploding. The force of the successive explosions caused the high brick walls to crumble, burying the workers under tons of debris and cutting off the escape of others.

E. G. Cooper, deputy state fire marshal, headed the state investigation of the tragedy and George Goff of the Oklahoma City fire department represented the city. Preliminary surveys failed to uncover the cause of the blaze which started in a sawdust ring in the center of the auditorium.

The dead have been identified as R. A. Mason, fireman; Gordon Smith, used car dealer; Thomas Smith, messenger for Morris & Company; Dave Misler, employee of the G. A. Nichols Realty Company, and a negro laborer.

CLOSED STATE BANK PAYS FINAL DIVIDEND

St. Paul, May 28.—(U.P.)—Fourth and final dividend, 7.95 per cent, amounting to $9,410.75, was paid today to depositors in the Farmers' State Bank of Pemberton. Today's payment brought to 97.95 per cent of the total amount repaid since the bank was closed Dec. 14, 1927.

MEMORIAL DAY CHANGES MADE

High School Girls Double Quartet to Sing at Cemetery; Plans
Complete

The executive committee planning Memorial Day announced today new changes in the program.

The high school girls double quartet will appear in the program at the cemetery in place of the male quartet while the Brainerd ladies band will also take an active part in the parade and at Evergreen.

In the arrangements for Memorial Day, Friday, the committee has endeavored to conduct the program in conformity to the wishes and customs of the G. A. R. organization who established the Memorial Day observance many years ago under their leader General John A. Logan.

Their ritual is followed in the annual ceremonies at the cemetery.

"The G. A. R. veterans are rapidly falling out of line and their places will soon be taken by the veterans of the more recent struggles. Until the last of these Civil war heroes have answered the last roll call, no one will question the propriety of giving the G. A. R. first consideration on Memorial Day and following their wishes in the mode of observing the day," W. C. Cobb, superintendent of schools and a member of the committee on preparations said today.

REPLY TO WETS ATTEMPTS TO DISRUPT RANKS

TONS OF LITERATURE, SOUND
MOVIE ADDRESSES TO BE USED

THOUSANDS OF MEETINGS TO BE HELD IN COMING DRIVE

Des Moines, Iowa, May 28.—(U.P.)—The Anti-Saloon League has mapped out a modern and vigorous campaign in reply to efforts by wets to disrupt its ranks, F. Scott McBride, general superintendent, said here today.

Tons of literature, sound movie addresses and thousands of meetings will be the means used in the drive, the dry leader said.

He declared recent activities of wet organizations are of little immediate concern, but that they have necessitated an educational campaign that will inform the people for all time of the evils of alcohol.

"The campaign will be a business-like one," McBride said. "We intend to bombard the country with literature from our printing plant at Westerville, O., which has an output of several tons of material daily."

"We will use the sound movies which will bring the drama of prohibition to the people, talks on radios and thousands of meetings. The campaign will be conducted through education, agitation and legislation."

"It's going to take the wets a long time to prove there is a revolt against prohibition," McBride said. "The people are for prohibition."

20 WITNESSES TO BE HEARD IN FUR CASE

DEFUNCT TEN THOUSAND LAKES
FUR FARM CORPORATION
AFFAIRS AIRED

GOV. CHRISTIANSON QUESTION-
ED BY JURY FOR 2 HOURS
AND 10 MINUTES

St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—(U.P.)—Federal grand jurors listening to the stories of how the defunct Ten Thousand Lakes Fur Farms Corporation obtained thousands of dollars from northwest investors today had some 20 witnesses to hear before a Memorial Day recess.

Late yesterday Governor Theodore Christianson was questioned for two hours and 10 minutes. While the questions that were put to the governor were not definitely known, rumors reported that the chief executive had been questioned regarding his conference with Floyd B. Olson, Hennepin county district attorney who investigated the fur farms corporation, regarding the governor's own investigation of the fur farms through the state securities commission and regarding a letter he had written on the general subject of fur farming.

When he came out of the jury room, the governor said he had had a "pleasant afternoon" and chatted with newspapermen and others in the ante room of the grand jury.

The governor left immediately for Hutchinson, Minn., where he delivered a high school graduation address.

AS WAR GHOST, ROLAND W. QUINN IS LIVELY VETERAN

St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—(U.P.)—Roland W. Quinn, attorney and world war veteran, proved today that, when it comes to speaking, ghosts deserve a more lively reputation.

Quinn was asked to give a Memorial day talk at Central high school today, then someone looked up his record. On the honor roll of the school's war dead, Quinn's name was listed as "killed in action." The service flag carried a gold star in his memory.

Asserting that there must have been some mistake, Quinn consented to speak to prove his point.

ELKS MEDALS TO VALEDICTORIANS

Brainerd Lodge This Year Confers Them at Six High Schools in Jurisdiction

TREASURED MEMENTOES

Eighth Year During Which Local Lodge Has Conferred Them at High School Graduations

In keeping with a custom established eight years ago, the Brainerd Elks lodge will again present valedictorians of the six high schools in this district with a valedictorian medal.

Hon. Edward P. Scallon, state representative, will present the medal to Miss Edith M. Frost, valedictorian of the Brainerd high school at the graduation exercises at the Washington high school May 31.

Arthur J. Sullivan, county attorney, will present Baxter A. Smith, Jr., valedictorian of the Crosby-Ironton high school, his medal at the exercises May 29.

Luella Lundblad, valedictorian at Aitkin, will be presented with her medal May 30 by Past Exalted Ruler John A. Hoffbauer. Others will be Donald Martin of Pine River on May 30 by Past Exalted Ruler R. R. Gould; Leona Mitchell of Staples on May 28 by Exalted Ruler G. S. Swanson; and Loris Huffa at Pequot May 31 by Secretary John J. Cummins.

This is the eighth year these medals have been presented to valedictorians by the Brainerd Elks lodge. The idea is original with the Brainerd lodge, being started by John A. Hoffbauer who was then Exalted Ruler, and since that time has been adopted by several lodges all over the state.

The medal is of solid gold. At the top, to the left, is an Elks head with the word "valedictorian" engraved to the right. The medallion is suspended by two gold chains. On this is the light, which indicates learning, the book of knowledge and the wreath of achievement. The back is engraved with the name, date, etc. The medals are of unusual beauty and will be a source of inspiration and satisfaction to the recipient.

One of these medals will be on display in the Dispatch window until Saturday.

Serving a State and a Nation!

That is the aim of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company because only by serving Minnesota and the Nation can A & P prosper. Last year A & P Food Stores distributed over 45 million pounds of Minnesota Butter to American homes. Minnesota farmers received over $20,000,000 for this butter. American families were able to enjoy fine Minnesota Butter at prices little above that paid the producers. This is indeed a worthwhile service to both Minnesota and the Nation.

Attractive Scrap Yards

SCRAP dealers in Indiana towns are feeling the effect of the almost universal urge to clean up which spring usually engenders, says the Iron Trade Review. Councils of Warsaw and Hartford City, Ind., have moved to render the appearance of their "junk" yards more attractive or to remove them beyond the city limits.

At Hartford City an ordinance has been passed exiling the three existing yards to outer darkness and forbidding others to establish themselves within the limits. Owners of the yards are seeking aid from the courts against the removal order.

At Warsaw the city fathers have ordered the yards cleaned up and high board fences erected about them, to hide their inner unloveliness from passing gaze. An ordinance there already provides that scrap yards within 100 feet of residence property must be inclosed in a building. The new fences must be kept painted and in repair.

Just what conditions caused this ripple of reform in Indiana is not apparent, but perhaps the scrapmen were bit careless. Piles of discarded iron and steel, particularly disemboweled automobile carcasses, admittedly are not inspiring and no poems have been written in their praise. To reduce the optical hazard by suitable inclosure is not a great hardship. If the iron and steel content of the yard is increased by paper, rags and rubber tires the offense to the eye is enlarged.

Yet the scrap business, even in its incipient stages, as represented by the collection yard in the small town, has become a real necessity in conservation and officials should temper their regulations with justice.

The Good Old Books

IN spite of the temporary flare of some of the modern best sellers, good, old books continue in vogue and such large publishers as E. P. Dutton & Company, Inc., have stated that it is a fact that many of the old books have a larger sale, continuing year after year, than the most popular of the new books.

A good popular-priced edition of Shakespeare will sell more copies in seven years than any new book you can mention, and this in the face of the many old editions on the market.

"Tom Jones" sells from year to year. "The Imitation of Christ," "Pilgrim's Progress," "The Little Flowers of St. Francis of Assisi," Aristotle's "Ethics," Epicurus's "Moral Discourses," Plato's "Republic," "Meditations of Marcus Aurelius," Dante's "Divine Comedy," the "Autobiography of Benvenuto Cellini," Franklin's "Autobiography," Boswell's "Life of Johnson," the Koran, "Pride and Prejudice," "Adam Bede," "Jane Eyre," "Les Miserables," "The Last of the Mohicans," "Lorna Doone," "Leaves of Grass," command a large sale.

Attractive Scrap Yards

SCRAP dealers in Indiana towns are feeling the effect of the almost universal urge to clean up which spring usually engenders, says the Iron Trade Review. Councils of Warsaw and Hartford City, Ind., have moved to render the appearance of their "junk" yards more attractive or to remove them beyond the city limits.

At Hartford City an ordinance has been passed exiling the three existing yards to outer darkness and forbidding others to establish themselves within the limits. Owners of the yards are seeking aid from the courts against the removal order.

At Warsaw the city fathers have ordered the yards cleaned up and high board fences erected about them, to hide their inner unloveliness from passing gaze. An ordinance there already provides that scrap yards within 100 feet of residence property must be inclosed in a building. The new fences must be kept painted and in repair.

Just what conditions caused this ripple of reform in Indiana is not apparent, but perhaps the scrapmen were bit careless. Piles of discarded iron and steel, particularly disemboweled automobile carcasses, admittedly are not inspiring and no poems have been written in their praise. To reduce the optical hazard by suitable inclosure is not a great hardship. If the iron and steel content of the yard is increased by paper, rags and rubber tires the offense to the eye is enlarged.

Yet the scrap business, even in its incipient stages, as represented by the collection yard in the small town, has become a real necessity in conservation and officials should temper their regulations with justice.

The Good Old Books

IN spite of the temporary flare of some of the modern best sellers, good, old books continue in vogue and such large publishers as E. P. Dutton & Company, Inc., have stated that it is a fact that many of the old books have a larger sale, continuing year after year, than the most popular of the new books.

A good popular-priced edition of Shakespeare will sell more copies in seven years than any new book you can mention, and this in the face of the many old editions on the market.

"Tom Jones" sells from year to year. "The Imitation of Christ," "Pilgrim's Progress," "The Little Flowers of St. Francis of Assisi," Aristotle's "Ethics," Epictetus' "Moral Discourses," Plato's "Republic," "Meditations of Marcus Aurelius," Dante's "Divine Comedy," the "Autobiography of Benvenuto Cellini," Franklin's "Autobiography," Boswell's "Life of Johnson," the Koran, "Pride and Prejudice," "Adam Bede," "Jane Eyre," "Les Misérables," "The Last of the Mohicans," "Lorna Donne," "Leaves of Grass," command a large sale.

Fashions for the Smart Woman

THE FITTED BODICE

Youth is still the inspiration of Paris fashions, but this season it is with a difference of soft curves and femininity. Fitted bodices, longer skirts, higher waists, and dainty lingerie touches are all part of the new mode. Even fabrics play their part, with satins, canton crepes and velvets manipulated subtly to reveal the figure. Such a dress is the canton crepe frock illustrated above, with fitted bodice and higher waistline. Tucks at the shoulders give ease to the front and the softly rolled contrasting collar and jabot make a becoming neck finish.

Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 4634. Sizes 14 to 38, 50 cents.

Elevated Pasture Land

In an unusual real estate deal the famous mountain of Puy-de-Dome was sold by auction at Clermont-Ferrand, France. This mountain, of volcanic origin, contains pasture land often above the clouds.

Arizona's Famous Desert

The Painted desert lies along the Colorado river in Arizona. It is remarkable for the bright red, brown, blue, purple, yellow and white of the sandstones, shales and clays. It is the famous petrified forest of Mesozoic time.

What are Creamettes?

Creamettes are a new style, more tender, more delicious Macaroni product. Made by a superior perfected process. You can tell the difference as soon as you cook them up! Delicious flavor! Appealing appearance. Tender, tasty and wholesome. Easily prepared in just a few moments time. Cook them alone or with cheese, meats, and vegetables.

SIX CYLINDER SENTENCES

By DR. JOHN W. HOLLAND

Young man, use some of your acumen to accumulate something.

On life's mental ocean we must either think or sink.

The world's political garments cannot be whitened by political soft-soap.

No one is whole who cannot practice self-control.

Heaven never gives to us the power to bear tomorrow's troubles today.

Be sure that you make the best of this world before you pine for the better.

THREE SURPRISE CANDIDATES FILE

Charles W. Oberg, Carney O. Peterson, Geo. E. Ericson, Jr., Get Under Wire

SHERIFF THEORIN WITHDRAWS

Announces He Will Back His Deputy, Filing Deadline Closed

Surprises came fast yesterday afternoon as candidates got under the wire in the closing hour of filing for office in Crow Wing county.

Last hour filings included: Charles W. Oberg, deputy sheriff for sheriff.

Carney O. Peterson, for register of deeds.

Geo. E. Ericson, Jr., for register of deeds.

Filings previous in the day and those on the preceding afternoon included: County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan and City Attorney D. H. Furler for county attorney; Earle W. Jenkins, deputy register of deeds for register of deeds; A. G. Trommald for court commissioner.

Shortly after the entry of Charles W. Oberg in the race for sheriff, Sheriff Claus A. Theorin withdrew in favor of his subordinate.

Sheriff Theorin in this respect said today:

"I have withdrawn from the race in favor of my deputy, Charles W. Oberg and wish that my friends will give him the support they intended to give me."

"I have found in my experience with Mr. Oberg that he is well qualified for the position of sheriff and that should he be elected he will fulfill the duties as capably and satisfactorily as can be desired."

Mr. Oberg has been deputy sheriff of Crow Wing county for the past four years. Before living here he maintained his residence at Deerwood.

Carney O. Peterson who seeks election for register of deeds was born and raised in Crow Wing county and attended county schools, later continuing training in the Little Falls Business College. He spent five years in bank work and has been employed in the offices of the Northern Pacific Railway Co. and the Northwest Paper Co. for several years.

Earle W. Jenkins was born and raised in Brainerd. He started work in the office of the Register of Deeds in 1905 and has been employed in that office ever since, serving as deputy register of deeds since 1910.

Geo. E. Ericson, Jr., has been employed by the Minnesota Forestry Department and has had experience as a clerk in the license department at the State Capitol Building, St. Paul.

The primary election will be held on June 16 with the general election in November.

HOUGEN CAMPAIGNS

IN CITY TODAY

Senator John N. Hougén, candidate for nomination as lieutenant-governor on the republican ticket left today for Duluth where he will deliver a campaign speech.

Hougén spoke here at an informal dinner today. Leaving here Hougén will swing through the Iron Range towns and then back through central Minnesota.

While in Brainerd Senator Hougén was the guest of County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan, a classmate while studying law at the University of Minnesota.

Dykeman 4-H club Meeting

The Dykeman 4-H club met May 23 at the Clayton Dykeman home at Dykeman. The next meeting of the club will be held at the Albert Treichler home at Dykeman.

There were about 45 in attendance. A short program followed the business meeting, and refreshments were served.

Demonstration work and projects were discussed during the business meeting, and Mrs. Ernest Persson gave a report on the meeting of the 4-H club leaders which was held recently in Brainerd.

SENIOR CLASS DAY FROLIC TONIGHT

Two Hours of Fun and Seriousness on Program at High School Tonight

This evening, at 8 o'clock at the Washington high school auditorium, the senior class day exercises will be presented, and there will be two hours of frolic, fun and seriousness for all attending. There will be no charge for admission and the exercises are open to the school and public.

The class prophecy of 20 years hence, (according to the senior class prophets) will be a feature of the evening, showing the 1936 class in their various walks of life. Some will be shown in a presidential cabinet, others in a P. T. A. congress, others as singers of renown, lawyers, etc.

A one act play "The Valiant" will be given by the Sempster Paratus club. The cast includes Otto Dahl, Roger Kleven, Zane Smith, Helen Sheets and David Weber.

"Hot Air," an hilarious farce, will also be given. Players include Clarence Holden, Ross Olmsted, Overt Benson, Adolf Erickson, Elizabeth Irvine and Alice Nolan. Much advice for both husbands and wives will be given in this.

WHITTIER P. T. A. WINS VOTE CONTEST

Radio, Given as Prize, Installed; Lowell Second in Russell Creamery Contest

Three Brainerd groups furnished a close race in the Russell Creamery Free Majestic Radio contest which ended this week.

The final results announced today are:

Whittier P. T. A.—23,797 votes.

Sister Perpetua of the St. Francis school—23,216 votes.

Whittier P. T. A.—21,865 votes.

The Lowell P. T. A. brought in 2,385 votes for the Whittier school but the Whittier association did not use these votes to win.

As a result of winning the contest the Whittier P. T. A. received free a Majestic radio. This radio was installed at the school today.

The other two winners each received certificates, good until fall, for $50 on a Majestic 92 Model or combination radio and phonograph.

At the first three days of the contest which started with "open house" at the Russell Creamery Co. over 3,560 people attended.

Frank Russell, president of the Russell Co. said that the contest was entirely successful and that it aided greatly in further educating school children in the consumption of pasteurized milk.

BRAINONIAN OFF PRESS SOON

To be on Sale at 2 P. M. Tomorrow at Washington High School Library

ANNUAL VERY ATTRACTIVE

Carried Out in Black and Silver With a Colonial Theme

Tomorrow afternoon the 1936 Brainerd high school annual "The Brainonian" will be off the presses and will be on sale at 2 o'clock at the Washington high school library.

The annuals this year are very attractive, being carried out in black and silver with a colonial theme and reverse silhouette, and much credit is due Richard Ebert, managing editor; Zane Smith, literary editor; Claude Holden, business manager and Miss Alice Nolan, assistant business manager for the able manner in which they edited the book. The balance and continuity of the pages shows very careful study had been given the composition in the editorial rooms of the Brainonian. The art work is very effective and is a local product, being the work of Gaylord Kinney and Martin Olson. Good taste and good judgment have been shown in all sections of the annual.

The books will be on sale Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, and all those having made down payments will be given their books first. In case all the books are not taken Thursday afternoon, the remainder will be on sale Saturday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock. 365 books in all were bound. The price is $1.25. All desiring annuals are urged to come early so as not to be disappointed.

The 1936 annual is a product of The Dispatch presses. This is the sixth consecutive year they have been printed by The Dispatch.

STORE BREAKIN NETS $150 LOOT

Burglars Force Window of Alderman-Maghan, Steal Jackknives, Guns, Etc.

Burglars forced a rear window on the second floor of the Alderman-Maghan Hardware Co. store, Laurel street, last night, pried open a door leading to the main store and escaped with approximately 100 jackknives, two 12 gauge shot guns, a fishing reel and 50 boxes of 22 calibre shells.

The loot was valued at $150. The burglars did not touch the cash register which contained small change.

Entertain Friends at Dinner

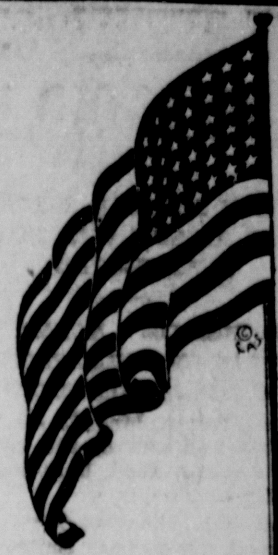

Mr. and Mrs. Swan Peterson, 1314 Mill street, entertained a number of their relatives at a dinner Sunday, in compliment to L. Tomlinson of Florida who is visiting here with relatives. Covers were laid for 15.

NOTICE

Customers that have clothes at the Jens Molstad tailor shop may call for them now. All accounts are payable at the tailor shop. Prompt arrangement for settlement of accounts will be greatly appreciated.

Shortly after the entry of Charles W. Oberg in the race for sheriff, Sheriff Claus A. Theorin withdrew in favor of his subordinate.

Sheriff Theorin in this respect said today:

"I have withdrawn from the race in favor of my deputy, Charles W. Oberg and wish that my friends will give him the support they intended to give me."

"I have found in my experience with Mr. Oberg that he is well qualified for the position of sheriff and that should he be elected he will fulfill the duties as capably and satisfactory as can be desired."

Mr. Oberg has been deputy sheriff of Crow Wing county for the past four years. Before living here he maintained his residence at Deerwood.

Carney O. Peterson who seeks election for register of deeds was born and raised in Crow Wing county and attended county schools, later continuing training in the Little Falls Business College. He spent five years in bank work and has been employed in the offices of the Northern Pacific Railway Co. and the Northwest Paper Co. for several years.

Earle W. Jenkins was born and raised in Brainerd. He started work in the office of the Register of Deeds in 1905 and has been employed in that office ever since, serving as deputy register of deeds since 1910.

Geo. E. Ericson, Jr., has been employed by the Minnesota Forestry Department and has had experience as a clerk in the license department at the State Capitol Building, St. Paul.

The primary election will be held on June 16 with the general election in November.

HOUGEN CAMPAIGNS IN CITY TODAY

Senator John N. Hougen, candidate for nomination as lieutenant-governor on the republican ticket left today for Duluth where he will deliver a campaign speech.

Hougen spoke here at an informal dinner today. Leaving here Hougen will swing through the Iron Range towns and then back through central Minnesota.

While in Brainerd Senator Hougen was the guest of County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan, a classmate while studying law at the University of Minnesota.

Dykeman 4-H club Meeting

The Dykeman 4-H club met May 23 at the Clayton Dykeman home at Dykeman. The next meeting of the club will be held at the Albert Treichler home at Dykeman.

There were about 45 in attendance. A short program followed the business meeting, and refreshments were served.

Demonstration work and projects were discussed during the business meeting, and Mrs. Ernest Persson gave a report on the meeting of the 4-H club leaders which was held recently in Brainerd.

SENIOR CLASS DAY FROLIC TONIGHT

Two Hours of Fun and Seriousness on Program at High School
Tonight

This evening, at 8 o'clock at the Washington high school auditorium, the senior class day exercises will be presented, and there will be two hours of frolic, fun and seriousness for all attending. There will be no charge for admission and the exercises are open to the school and public.

The class prophecy of 20 years hence, (according to the senior class prophets) will be a feature of the evening, showing the 1936 class in their various walks of life. Some will be shown in a presidential cabinet, others in a P. T. A. congress, others as singers of renown, lawyers, etc.

A one act play "The Valiant" will be given by the Senper Paratus club. The cast includes Otto Dahl, Roger Kleven, Zane Smith, Helen Sheets and David Weber.

"Hot Air," an hilarious farce, will also be given. Players include Clarence Holden, Ross Olmsted, Obert Benson, Adolf Erickson, Elizabeth Irvine and Alice Nolan. Much advice for both husbands and wives will be given in this.

WHITTIER P. T. A. WINS VOTE CONTEST

Radio, Given as Prize, Installed;
Lowell Second in Russell
Creamery Contest

Three Brainerd groups furnished a close race in the Russell Creamery Free Majestic Radio contest which ended this week.

The final results announced today are:

Whittier P. T. A.—23,797 votes.

Sister Perpetua of the St. Francis school—23,216 votes.

Whittier P. T. A.—21,865 votes.

The Lowell P. T. A. brought in 2,385 votes for the Whittier school but the Whittier association did not use these votes to win.

As a result of winning the contest the Whittier P. T. A. received free a Majestic radio. This radio was installed at the school today.

The other two winners each received certificates, good until fall, for $50 on a Majestic 92 Model or combination radio and phonograph.

At the first three days of the contest which started with "open house" at the Russell Creamery Co. over 3,500 people attended.

Frank Russell, president of the Russell Co. said that the contest was entirely successful and that it aided greatly in further educating school children in the consumption of pasteurized milk.

BRAINONIAN OFF PRESS SOON

To be on Sale at 2 P. M. Tomorrow at Washington High School
Library

ANNUAL VERY ATTRACTIVE
Carried Out in Black and Silver With a Colonial
Theme

Tomorrow afternoon the 1936 Brainerd high school annual "The Brainonian" will be off the presses and will be on sale at 2 o'clock at the Washington high school library.

The annuals this year are very attractive, being carried out in black and silver with a colonial theme and reverse silhouette, and much credit is due Richard Ebert, managing editor; Zane Smith, literary editor; Claude Holden, business manager and Miss Alice Nolan, assistant business manager for the able manner in which they edited the book. The balance and continuity of the pages shows very careful study had been given the composition in the editorial rooms of the Brainonian. The art work is very effective and is a local product, being the work of Gaylord Kinney and Martin Olson. Good taste and good judgment have been shown in all sections of the annual.

The books will be on sale Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, and all those having made down payments will be given their books first. In case all the books are not taken Thursday afternoon, the remainder will be on sale Saturday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock. 365 books in all were bound. The price is $1.25. All desiring annuals are urged to come early so as not to be disappointed.

The 1936 annual is a product of The Dispatch presses. This is the sixth consecutive year they have been printed by The Dispatch.

STORE BREAKIN NETS $150 LOOT

Burglars Force Window of Alderman-Maghan, Steal Jackknives, Guns, Etc.

Burglars forced a rear window on the second floor of the Alderman-Maghan Hardware Co. store, Laurel street, last night, pried open a door leading to the main store and escaped with approximately 100 jackknives, two 12 gauge shot guns, a fishing reel and 50 boxes of 22 calibre shells.

The loot was valued at $150. The burglars did not touch the cash register which contained small change.

Entertain Friends at Dinner

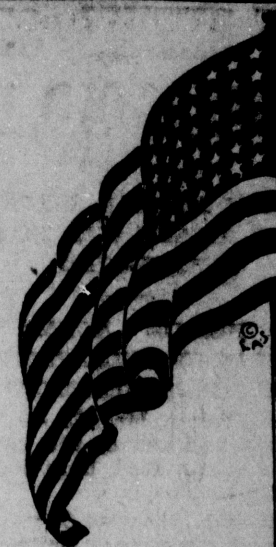

Mr. and Mrs. Swan Peterson, 1314 Mill street, entertained a number of their relatives at a dinner Sunday, in compliment to L. Tomlinson of Florida who is visiting here with relatives. Covers were laid for 15.

"Under a Texas Moon" Features Fay as Gay Two-Gun Lover

Frank Fay, playing the leading role of Don Carlos in "Under a Texas Moon," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone first 100% talking, singing, outdoor picture in technicolor, which comes to the Paramount on Thursday and Friday, has some of the most famous villains of the screen to aid him.

Noah Beery, is a somewhat noisy but altogether agreeable rascal; Fred Kohler does another type of rascal; Tully Marshall adds a distasteful if amusing characterization to speed the story. Charles Sellon, who is shy and devilish, gets what is due him early in the story. George Stone, George Cooper, Jack Curtis, and Sam Appel are also in the list of villainous characters with which Don Carlos has to deal. A number of other bit players, selected for their hard faces make the easy-going rather rough-going for the romantic Mexican.

But it is the senoritas to whom Don Carlos makes violent love that make the story colorful. Among them are Raquel Torres, Myrna Loy, Armida, Mona Maris and Betty Boyd. Michael Curtiz directed.

'HAL' CARLSON, CHICAGO CUBS PITCHER, DIES

Chicago, May 28.—(U.P.)—Harold "Hal" Carlson, 35, a star pitcher of the Chicago Cubs, died today as the result of an internal hemorrhage. He was to have pitched today against the Cincinnati Reds.

Apparently in excellent health when he retired early last night in his room at the Carlos hotel, Carlson was heard moaning about 3 a. m. He died soon after guests had summoned Dr. John F. Davis, to attend him.

Milwaukee, May 28.—(U.P.)—There is a burglar in Milwaukee who, dentists said today, would steal the fillings from your teeth. The thief entered three dental offices here and obtained $300 worth of gold teeth and fillings.

Frank Fay, playing the leading role of Don Carlos in "Under a Texas Moon," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone first 100% talking, singing, outdoor picture in technicolor, which comes to the Paramount on Thursday and Friday, has some of the most famous villains of the screen to aid him.

Noah Beery, is a somewhat noisy but altogether agreeable rascal; Fred Kohler does another type of rascal; Tully Marshall adds a distasteful if amusing characterization to speed the story. Charles Sellon, who is sly and devilish, gets what is due him early in the story. George Stone, George Cooper, Jack Curtis, and Sam Appel are also in the list of villainous characters with which Don Carlos has to deal. A number of other bit players, selected for their hard faces make the easy-going rather rough-going for the romantic Mexican.

But it is the senoritas to whom Don Carlos makes violent love that make the story colorful. Among them are Raquel Torres, Myrna Loy, Armida, Mona Maris and Betty Boyd. Michael Curtiz directed.

'HAL' CARLSON, CHICAGO CUBS PITCHER, DIES

Chicago, May 28. — (U.P.) — Harold "Hal" Carlson, 35, a star pitcher of the Chicago Cubs, died today as the result of an internal hemorrhage. He was to have pitched today against the Cincinnati Reds.

Apparently in excellent health when he retired early last night in his room at the Carlos hotel, Carlson was heard moaning about 3 a. m. He died soon after guests had summoned Dr. John F. Davis, to attend him.

Milwaukee, May 28. — (U.P.) — There is a burglar in Milwaukee who, dentists said today, would steal the fillings from your teeth. The thief entered three dental offices here and obtained $300 worth of gold teeth and fillings.

6th and 10th Banker Groups Elect Officers Today

RESOLUTIONS TO BE ADOPTED BEFORE CLOSE

BANQUET LAST EVENING AT
IRON EXCHANGE HALL
LARGELY ATTENDED

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT CON-VENTION PLEASANT WITH HOSPITALITY SHOWN

Sixth and tenth district groups of the Minnesota State Bankers Association in convention here this morning elected these officers:

Sixth district:
President—R. W. Smythe, Park Rapids.

Vice President—H. R. Henderson, Bemidji.

Secretary-Treasurer—Nels J. Peterson, Little Falls.

Executive committee—T. S. Nyhus, Iron; T. C. Fouquette, St. Cloud; L. H. Colton, Wadena.

Officers of the tenth district:
President—Albert Wickstrom, Isanti.

Vice President—F. W. Hobart, Taylors Falls.

Secretary-Treasurer—F. A. Buscher, Rogers.

Executive committee—Frank P. Powers, Quamba; Guy F. Jensen, Minneapolis.

Endorsed for member of executive council Minnesota Bankers association, John E. Odegard, Santiago.

Over 200 in Attendance

With over 200 in attendance at the two days joint annual convention of the sixth and tenth groups of the Minnesota Bankers convention, the gathering gave every evidence of being very successful.

Mayor Frank E. Little delivered the welcoming address yesterday morning and response was made by R. W. Furman of Red Wing, who brought greetings from the Minnesota Bankers association. He gave advice on the proper management of banks.

Committees appointed were sixth district committee on nominations: R. N. Gardner, Staples; Murray McNair, Pillager and R. J. Tinkelpaugh, Brainerd.

Tenth district committee on nominations: A. T. Westrom, Grasston; G. J. Stolberg, Harris; A. F. Johnson, North Branch.

Joint committee on resolutions: J. K. Martin, Little Falls; W. L. Brooks, Bemidji; J. A. Allen, Milaca; T. C. Blomgren, Cambridge.

Harry D. Baker of St. Croix Falls, Wis., spoke of the stabilization of land values and how the banker can assist in this. Signal service can be rendered by inducing the farmer to stay on his land.

Judge P. A. Wells of Chicago, attorney of the Union Trust Company and First National bank of Chicago, spoke of phases in banking and took up the liability of banks for "hot" bond purchases. A bank is held to a high degree of care in receiving bonds.

Conditions Improving

Otto Bremer, St. Paul financier, in an interview, stated that conditions in the Northwest are better than in any other part of the United States. He travels extensively and is in touch with conditions. "Give the northwest a little time and this part of the country will be on the threshold of great prosperity. If we can keep our affairs on an even keel, by next year we can expect quite an improvement."

Entertainment Program

The entertainment program provided was a lavish one and yesterday included a noon luncheon at Archer's for the ladies, automobile parties, etc., culminating in the complimentary banquet and theatre party of last evening.

H. P. Dunn, who is a director of the First National Bank of Brainerd, was the toastmaster at the banquet and was a very witty and efficient one.

R. W. Putnam of Red Wing, president of the Minnesota Bankers Association, brought greetings from the state organization. He recalled the fact that he and the toastmaster both came from the same southern Minnesota county of Goodhue.

A. C. Mraz, in excellent voice, sang two baritone solos. His accompaniments as well as those of the following soloists, were played by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland.

C. A. Ryan, president of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, gave a short record of the achievements of the association including bettering of dairy herds, a new resort hotel at lower Gull lake and the new Paramount theatre.

Mrs. G. D. LaBar pleased her many friends by singing two beautiful soprano solos and drew much applause. Her voice is very clear and vibrant and her phrasing most excellent.

B. L. Lagerquist was called to the attention of the diners and was given quite extended remarks by the toastmaster. Mr. Lagerquist has been active in committee work.

Mining Resources and Taxation

Hon. Edward P. Scallon, of Crosby, representative at large of Crow Wing and Morrison counties, spoke on "Mining Resources and Taxation" and was given undivided attention. He pointed out that at the present rate of depletion iron ores of the state would be exhausted in 25 years, and that state-owned reserves would be exhausted in 11 years. He showed the benefits that had accrued to the state from taxing iron ore mined and unmined. However, 85 per cent of this benefit accrued to people outside of the district and only 15 per cent to the people in the district. He behooved the 85 per cent to see that taxation changes were made to stimulate mining and exploration work and that repressive measures should not be continued.

Crow Wing county, said the speaker, offers the best field for exploration. He mentioned that Canada instead of heavy taxation is actually giving a bonus on iron ore mined in the Dominion.

The Cuyuna range, a fertile field for exploration, extends from Carlton through Crosby and Brainerd to Randall.

The beneficiation of ores will be helpful, but other states besides Minnesota will take advantage of the processes.

He explained the various classifications of property taxes, the occupational tax on iron ore mining, and the royalty tax.

Dr. G. I. Badeaux sang two fine baritone solos and was given much applause.

Lou's orchestra played during the banquet. After the dinner all attended the theatre party at the Paramount.

Wednesday Program

The program today opened with the election of officers of the two groups, adoption of resolutions, addresses, etc. In the afternoon the golf courses of the Brainerd Country Club and the Brainerd Pine Beach hotel will be visited.

Resolutions Adopted

These resolutions were adopted at the joint meeting of the Sixth and Tenth District Bankers association May 28, 1930.

The Sixth and Tenth District Groups of the Minnesota Bankers Association assembled this 28th day of May, 1930 do herewith offer the following resolutions:

We do commend President Hoover and his Administration in the efforts now being made to more fully equalize the economic status between agriculture and industry.

We commend the officers of the State Association and District Groups for their faithful and conscientious efforts to help solve some of our banking problems. Especially do we recognize their intelligent service in connection with the question of bank taxation, and believe their efforts should be continued until a fair solution of this problem may be found. We further commend the energetic and conscientious work of the Commissioner of Banks, A. J. Veigel, and urge that all bankers direct their efforts toward carrying into effect his recommendations toward fuller co-operation by all banks in the districts, to the end that banking practices may be adopted leading toward the building up of more serviceable institutions including the consolidation of banks where possible and practical.

Whereas it is quite evident that changed business conditions have made it necessary for the banks to inaugurate new banking practices to increase their earnings. Now therefore we urge that the banks as speedily as possible adjust their business so as to realize increased earnings, particularly through adoption of service and float charges. We further recommend the formation as rapidly as possible of regional clearing houses and credit associations throughout the rural communities, that these associations be formed with a certain city as the center. County lines should not be considered. The competing banks in the territory tributary to this center should constitute the organization. We further recommend that the council of the State Bankers Association take the necessary steps for such organizations.

We further recommend that the officers and council of our State Association take proper steps for a hearing before the congressional committee on behalf of the unit banks, that they advocate before said committee the opposition of the unit banks of the state to branch banking. We further recommend that the officers of the State Association continue to urge the banks of the state seriously to employ auditors for the purpose of having a proper analysis of the operating costs of the bank, taken particularly in view of the fact that through the previous work of the officers of the association arrangements have been made whereby the fee in connection with this auditing is now very small indeed.

We commend most highly a formation of the highway patrol and assure the officers in charge the hearty co-operation of the banks.

We heartily recommend the candidacy of J. R. Campbell, vice president of the Merchants National bank, Wadena, Minn., for the position of vice president of the State Association and suggest that the members of the 6th and 10th Districts give him their undivided support.

We heartily recommend the candidacy of W. L. Brooks, Northern National bank, Bemidji, Minn., for the position of treasurer of the State Association and suggest that the members of the 6th and 10th District give him their undivided support.

Further, we wish to express our appreciation of the very efficient work of our state president. We particularly recognize the worth of George Susens, secretary, and Mrs. Vida Richards, assistant secretary, and ask that the members of our association accord them loyal and wholehearted support. The work of the Protective Department has been particularly efficient in the past year and our appreciation, not only of the efficient work but of the great risk taken by E. C. Brown, is especially commended. We feel under great obligations to him for his fine work these many years.

Resolved, that we extend our appreciation and thanks to the bankers, citizens, Business Mens' club, and the Brainerd Country club for the delightful entertainment afforded the delegates and ladies.

CITY SCHOOLS TO CLOSE THURSDAY

Many Students However Will Participate in Memorial Day Parade

Schools in Brainerd will close for summer vacations Thursday afternoon, according to W. C. Cobb, superintendent of schools.

The day will conclude school work and examinations. Many students will participate in the Memorial Day parade and program here Friday morning.

Brainerd high school pupils will receive their report cards before the parade by reporting at the school.

Commencement exercises Saturday evening will officially close high school activities for the year.

"SHEIK'S WIFE" BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXXVI.

THE pompous man threw the stub of the black cigar at the well curb—the old stone curb Eve had weeded and brushed free of earth only the day before. He lighted another, tossing the match into a clump of Sweet William, waved a pudgy hand, drove away saying he would be back.

Eve ran to the old judge, trembling. "You wouldn't let him come here? Old pig, throwing his smelly cigars around! You said you'd sell to someone who understands—someone who loves the place."

The man shook his white head, looking helpless and sad. "I'm an old fellow, my dear, and old fellows have a way of stepping out. I'd hoped my homestead would pass into the right hands, but, after all... So you've got to love it, too? Ah, I thought—you wouldn't want it yourself?"

Half crying, Eve began to protest. She realized suddenly that the roomy, ancient farmhouse, the grounds where a hundred flowering things rioted all in gay confusion; the remoteness and tranquility and old-time charm of it all. Never, excepting at Lakeview, had she felt so completely herself as she felt here, never so at home. Why, it was home! The Lakeview place would be sold when dear Uncle Mat was through with it; the uncle had decided this long ago. Then she would be without an anchor—for who could think of the noisy, untidy cottage in The Lane as this?

Where would she go to do her writing when the pompous man with the black cigars settled down here?

Eve remembered her writing and the account in the Haverford bank all in a breath. Eighteen hundred dollars, proceeds of her Revelations, and there was as much more to come. And she had been wondering what it would buy her that she wanted most of all!

"Judge Randolph," she cried, "what would you sell the place for? Your very lowest price?"

The pompous man was considering it at four thousand but Eve could have it for less. He would like her to own the old home! Perhaps he might visit there sometimes.

"Of course you might—why, I shouldn't be happy unless you did! If we can manage—"

They managed. Then and there Eve climbed into the ratty old buggy behind the fat old horse and they went jogging into Novel City. There was a great deal of red tape to be unwound at the courthouse, and when this was finished Eve had given her check for $1,800 and a series of notes for $1,700, and within six months she would be the sole owner of Stony Wall, as the farm was called.

She went back, looked at her newly acquired possessions with love and bursting pride. But now that it was all settled, and her hands over the thought of losing the house, as well as her excitement over her first important business transaction was past, she felt a chill touch of fear. What would Ken say? Supposing he would have nothing to do with it—refused point-blank to live here! Ah, the disappointment of that, seeing the fine old place stand idle and deserted, knowing she never could come here, never could call it home!

"I must keep this to myself," she decided finally. "Make a great secret of it. Things must change some time; Ken and I—well, we can't go on forever as we're doing. One way or another things must change."

"I suppose," her thought went on, "I could come here if... Oh, many things happen, and things you'd not want to think about. But a girl could live here by herself if she wished. She could make a living writing and there's Mary and Jimmy so near. And—"

But she was weeping then; stirred to tears by the vision of life without Ken. Because of all that had happened, she decided to allow herself a bit of temper and knock off work for the remainder of the day. She walked home through an afternoon grown sultry and oppressive. Out over the Sound far beyond the Haverford hills thunderheads piled upon each other and still farther away toward the south lightning flashed in a sky that was like a surging flood. She quickened her steps, hoping that Ken was home.

The cottage was deserted, however, as Eve had left it in the morning. But once inside trees hid her view of mountains and sky and she forgot about the storm, bustling about the preparation of a beautiful dinner for Ken—all of his favorite dishes—having learned that a great deal of very good food was likely to put him into a mellow frame of mind. For now she had decided that she must tell him about Stony Wall; she could not keep her proud secret—Ken must know.

At six o'clock rain began to fall, large splashy drops soaking into the thirsty garden and sending up sweet, earthy odors. But not for another hour did the twilight of storm descend suddenly, preceded by furious winds, that sent leaves whirling, twisted branches, banged about the house like a thousand imps of mischief turned loose.

Eve hastened to close the windows, fighting down apprehension. If Ken were in the hills! But she wouldn't think of this; Ken could take care of himself. He'd have found shelter when he saw the storm coming—oh, she wouldn't be afraid—she wouldn't let herself be afraid. Of course, he wouldn't come now, not through the down-pour; she would wait calmly, very calmly.

But when the lightning began to play in sheets over the whole earth and the thunder rolled wave after mighty wave of sound all about she realized that she was not very brave after all. She kept seeing Ken on the mountains, defenseless before all this fury, and fear sent her dashing out to the gate, looking up and down the road, though she could see nothing through the deluge; dashing back to the house again to change her sopping clothes and walk the floor, wringing her hands. Such a kid as he was—she should have taken better care of him. She had failed as a wife—how she had failed.

The storm passed over toward the north and there was an hour of quiet; then a new tempest came, wilder than the first. In her mounting hysteria it occurred to Eve that Ken might have gone home with Puss if they were together; frantically she ran to the telephone, gave the number she had heard her husband call so many times.

"Yes?" Puss' voice sounded weak and frightened.

"Listen—Is Ken over there?" "Ken—oh—" A sob; a click as the receiver was hung up. Again and again Eve tried to get the connection, but always came the operator's answer, dim and far away under the roar of the storm, "They do not answer."

Ken was hurt—he was dying—that was why Puss had cried. There had been an accident; Ken wanted his wife, needed her—he was dying over there at Spring Garden.

Driven by frenzied imaginings and not at all knowing what she did, Eve threw Ken's slobber around her shoulders, found her old tam-o'-shanter and drew it on her head. She plunged into the rain, catching her breath, making her way against the wind to the garage. The top was up and the curtains on the car—glory be for that. She backed out on the drive, swung into the road, the engine coughing as if with indignation at the battle ahead, and began the drive to Spring Garden.

Not as long as she lived was Eve to forget that drive; times there would be when she would awaken from sleep, sick and trembling with dreams of a solid wall of water moving just ahead of two wavering funnels of light, of wheels turned to jelly in a foaming torrent of road, of a car teetering on the edge of an embankment, turning squarely around in a cross-roads whirlpool.

But tonight she knew no fear for her thought was all of Ken; Ken who needed her, who was waiting for her, calling her name. She was going to him; soon she would see him, put her arms around him. Soon now—very soon—

The car rolled coughing and spluttering into Spring Garden, stopped at the cottage where Puss lived. Chilled and shaking, Eve stumbled up the steps and went in without bothering to knock.

Someone was sobbing in a room at the end of a little hall. Eve followed the sound, pushed back a door.

To Be Continued Monday.

Vice President—H. R. Henderson, Bemidji.

Secretary-Treasurer—Nels J. Peterson, Little Falls.

Executive committee—T. S. Nyhus, Ironton; T. C. Fouquette, St. Cloud; L. H. Colton, Wadena.

Officers of the tenth district:
President—Albert Wickstrom, Isanti.
Vice President—F. W. Hobart, Taylors Falls.

Secretary-Treasurer—F. A. Buscher, Rogers.

Executive committee—Frank P. Powers, Quamba; Guy F. Jensen, Minneapolis.

Endorsed for member of executive council Minnesota Bankers association, John E. Odegard, Santiago.

Over 200 in Attendance

With over 200 in attendance at the two days joint annual convention of the sixth and tenth groups of the Minnesota Bankers convention, the gathering gave every evidence of being very successful.

Mayor Frank E. Little delivered the welcoming address yesterday morning and response was made by R. W. Putnam of Red Wing, who brought greetings from the Minnesota Bankers association. He gave advice on the proper management of banks.

Committees appointed were sixth district committee on nominations: R. N. Gardner, Staples; Murray McNair, Pillager and R. J. Tinkelpaugh, Brainerd.

Tenth district committee on nominations: A. T. Westrom, Grasston; G. J. Stolberg, Harris; A. F. Johnson, North Branch.

Joint committee on resolutions: J. K. Martin, Little Falls; W. L. Brooks, Bemidji; J. A. Allen, Milaca; T. C. Bloomgren, Cambridge.
Harry D. Baker of St. Croix Falls, Wis., spoke of the stabilization of land values and how the banker can assist in this. Signal service can be rendered by inducing the farmer to stay on his land.

Judge P. A. Wells of Chicago, attorney of the Union Trust Company and First National bank of Chicago, spoke of phases in banking and took up the liability of banks for "hot" bond purchases. A bank is held to a high degree of care in receiving bonds.

Conditions Improving
Otto Bremer, St. Paul financier, in an interview, stated that conditions in the Northwest are better than in any other part of the United States. He travels extensively and is in touch with conditions. "Give the northwest a little time and this part of the country will be on the threshold of great prosperity. If we can keep our affairs on an even keel, by next year we can expect quite an improvement."

Entertainment Program
The entertainment program provided was a lavish one and yesterday included a noon luncheon at Archer's for the ladies, automobile parties, etc., culminating in the complimentary banquet and theatre party of last evening.

H. P. Dunn, who is a director of the First National Bank of Brainerd, was the toastmaster at the banquet and was a very witty and efficient one.

R. W. Putnam of Red Wing, president of the Minnesota Bankers Association, brought greetings from the state organization. He recalled the fact that he and the toastmaster both came from the same southern Minnesota county of Goodhue.

A. C. Mraz, in excellent voice, sang two baritone solos. His accompaniments as well as those of the following soloists, were played by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland.

C. A. Ryan, president of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, gave a short record of the achievements of the association including bettering of dairy herds, a new resort hotel at lower Cull lake and the new Paramount theatre.

Mrs. G. D. LaBar pleased her many friends by singing two beautiful soprano solos and drew much applause. Her voice is very clear and vibrant and her phrasing most excellent.

B. L. Lagerquist was called to the attention of the diners and was given quite extended remarks by the toastmaster. Mr. Lagerquist has been active in committee work.

Mining Resources and Taxation
Hon. Edward P. Scallon, of Crosby, representative at large of Crow Wing and Morrison counties, spoke on "Mining Resources and Taxation" and was given undivided attention. He pointed out that at the present rate of depletion iron ores of the state would be exhausted in 25 years, and that state-owned reserves would be exhausted in 11 years. He showed the benefits that had accrued to the state from taxing iron ore mined and unmined. However, 85 per cent of this benefit accrued to people outside of the district and only 15 per cent to the people in the district. It behooved the 85 per cent to see that taxation changes were made to stimulate mining and exploration work and that repressive measures should not be continued.

Crow Wing county, said the speaker, offers the best field for exploration. He mentioned that Canada instead of heavy taxation is actually giving a bonus on iron ore mined in the Dominion. The Cuyuna range, a fertile field for exploration, extends from Carlton through Crosby and Brainerd to Randall. The beneficiation of ores will be helpful, but other states besides Minnesota will take advantage of the processes. He explained the various classifications of property taxes, the occupational tax on iron ore mining, and the royalty tax.

Dr. G. I. Badeaux sang two fine baritone solos and was given much applause. Lou's orchestra played during the banquet. After the dinner all attended the theatre party at the Paramount.

Wednesday Program
The program today opened with the election of officers of the two groups, adoption of resolutions, addresses, etc. In the afternoon the golf courses of the Brainerd Country Club and the Brainerd Pine Beach hotel will be visited.

Resolutions Adopted
These resolutions were adopted at the joint meeting of the Sixth and Tenth District Bankers association May 28, 1930.

The Sixth and Tenth District Groups of the Minnesota Bankers Association assembled this 28th day of May, 1930, do herewith offer the following resolutions:

We do commend President Hoover and his Administration in the efforts now being made to more fully equalize the economic status between agriculture and industry.

We commend the officers of the State Association and District Groups for their faithful and conscientious efforts to help solve some of our banking problems. Especially do we recognize their intelligent service in connection with the question of bank taxation, and believe their efforts should be continued until a fair solution of this problem may be found. We further commend the energetic and conscientious work of the Commissioner of Banks, A. J. Veigel, and urge that all bankers direct their efforts toward carrying into effect his recommendations toward fuller co-operation by all banks in the districts, to the end that banking practices may be adopted leading toward the building up of more serviceable institutions including the consolidation of banks where possible and practical.

Whereas it is quite evident that changed business conditions have made it necessary for the banks to inaugurate new banking practices to increase their earnings. Now therefore we urge that the banks as speedily as possible adjust their business so as to realize increased earnings, particularly through adoption of service and float charges. We further recommend the formation as rapidly as possible of regional clearing houses and credit associations throughout the rural communities, that these associations be formed with a certain city as the center. County lines should not be considered. The competing banks in the territory tributary to this center should constitute the organization. We further recommend that the council of the State Bankers Association take the necessary steps for such organizations.

We further recommend that the officers and council of our State Association take proper steps for a hearing before the congressional committee on behalf of the unit banks, that they advocate before said committee the opposition of the unit banks of the state to branch banking. We further recommend that the officers of the State Association continue to urge the banks of the state seriously to employ auditors for the purpose of having a proper analysis of the operating costs of the bank, taken particularly in view of the fact that through the previous work of the officers of the association arrangements have been made whereby the fee in connection with this auditing is now very small indeed.

We commend most highly a formation of the highway patrol and assure the officers in charge the hearty co-operation of the banks.

We heartily recommend the candidacy of J. R. Campbell, vice president of the Merchants National bank, Winona, Minn., for the position of vice president of the State Association and suggest that the members of the 6th and 10th Districts give him their undivided support.

We heartily recommend the candidacy of W. L. Brooks, Northern National bank, Bemidji, Minn., for the position of treasurer of the State Association and suggest that the members of the 6th and 10th District give him their undivided support.

Further, we wish to express our appreciation of the very efficient work of our state president. We particularly recognize the worth of George Susens, secretary, and Mrs. Vida Richards, assistant secretary, and ask that the members of our association accord them loyal and whole-hearted support. The work of the Protective Department has been particularly efficient in the past year and our appreciation, not only of the efficient work but of the great risk taken by E. C. Brown, is especially commended. We feel under great obligations to him for his fine work these many years.

Resolved, that we extend our appreciation and thanks to the bankers, citizens, Business Mens' club, and the Brainerd Country club for the delightful entertainment afforded the delegates and ladies.

City Schools to Close Thursday

Many Students However Will Participate in Memorial Day Parade

Schools in Brainerd will close for summer vacations Thursday afternoon, according to W. C. Cobb, superintendent of schools.

The day will conclude school work and examinations. Many students will participate in the Memorial Day parade and program here Friday morning.

Brainerd high school pupils will receive their report cards before the parade by reporting at the school.

Commencement exercises Saturday evening will officially close high school activities for the year.

A Decoration Day Favorite

If you're planning a Decoration Day outing, take along plenty of Goetz Country Club. If you stay at home, have plenty in the refrigerator! It's the healthful beverage everybody likes... with meals and between meals.

There's health and wholesome goodness in every bottle of Country Club. Careful blending of select barley malt, hops and other choice ingredients, plus Country Club's fully-aged qualities, insure that "famous flavor".

Goetz Country Club is appetizing, refreshing, invigorating. It is easily assimilated with foods.

Ask for Country Club by name — accept no substitute.

"SHEIK'S WIFE" BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXXVI.

THE pompous man threw the stub of the black cigar at the well curb—the old stone curb Eve had weeded and brushed free of earth only the day before. He lighted another, tossing the match into a clump of Sweet William, waved a pudgy hand, drove away saying he would be back.

Eve ran to the old Judge, trembling. "You wouldn't let him come here? Old pig, throwing his smelly cigars around! You said you'd sell to someone who understands—someone who loves the place."

The man shook his white head, looking helpless and sad. "I'm an old fellow, my dear, and old fellows have a way of stepping out. I'd hoped my homestead would pass into the right hands, but, after all... So you've got to love it, too? Ah, I thought you wouldn't want it yourself?"

Half crying, Eve began to protest. She realized suddenly that it was quite as he said; she loved the roomy, ancient farmhouse, the grounds where a hundred flowering things rioted all in gay confusion; the remoteness and tranquillity and old-time charm of it all. Never, excepting at Lakeview, had she felt so completely herself as she felt here, never so at home. Why, it was home! The Lakeview place would be sold when dear Uncle Mat was through with it; the uncles had decided this long ago. Then she would be without an anchor—for who could think of the noisy, untidy cottage in The Lane as this?

Where would she go to do her writing when the pompous man with the black cigars settled down here? Eve remembered her writing and the account in the Haverford bank all in a breath. Eighteen hundred dollars, proceeds of her Revelations, and there was as much more to come. And she had been wondering what it would buy her that she wanted most of all!

"Judge Randolph," she cried, "what would you sell the place for? Your very lowest price?"

The pompous man was considering it at four thousand but Eve could have it for less. He would like her to own the old home! Perhaps he might visit there sometimes.

"Of course you might—why, I shouldn't be happy unless you did! If we can manage—" the house, as well as her excitement over her first important business transaction was past, she felt a chill touch of fear. What would Ken say? Supposing he would have nothing to do with it—refused point-blank to live here! Ah, the disappointment of that, seeing the fine old place stand idle and deserted, knowing she never could come here, never could call it home!

"I must keep this to myself," she decided finally. "Make a great secret of it. Things must change some time; Ken and I—well, we can't go on forever as we're doing. One way or another things must change."

"I suppose," her thought went on, "I could come here if... Oh, many things happen, and things you'd not want to think about. But a girl could live here by herself if she wished. She could make a living writing and there's Mary and Jimmy so near. And—"

But she was weeping then; stirred to tears by the vision of life without Ken.

Because of all that had happened, she decided to allow herself a bit of temperance and knock off work for the remainder of the day. She walked home through an afternoon grown sultry and oppressive. Out over the Sound far beyond the Haverford hills thunderheads piled upon each other and still farther away toward the south lightning flashed in a sky that was like a surging flood. She quickened her steps, hoping that Ken was home.

The cottage was deserted, however, as Eve had left it in the morning. But once inside trees hid her view of mountains and sky and she forgot about the storm, bustling about the preparation of a beautiful dinner for Ken—all of his favorite dishes—having learned that a great deal of very good food was likely to put him into a mellow frame of mind. For now she had decided that she must tell him about Stony Wall; she could not keep her proud secret—Ken must know.

At six o'clock rain began to fall, large splashy drops soaking into the thirsty garden and sending up sweet, earthy odors. But not for another hour did the twilight of storm descend suddenly, preceded by furious winds, that sent leaves whirling, twisted branches, banged about the house like a thousand imps of mischief turned loose.

Eve hastened to close the windows, fighting down apprehension. If Ken were in the hills! But she wouldn't think of this; Ken could take care of himself. He'd have found shelter when he saw the storm coming—oh, she wouldn't be afraid—she wouldn't let herself be afraid. Of course he wouldn't come now, not through the down-pour; she would wait calmly, very calmly.

not very brave after all. She kept seeing Ken on the mountains, defenseless before all this fury, and fear sent her dashing out to the gate, looking up and down the road, though she could see nothing through the deluge; dashing back to the house again to change her sopping clothes and walk the floor, wringing her hands. Such a kid as he was—she should have taken better care of him. She had failed as a wife—how she had failed.

The storm passed over toward the north and there was an hour of quiet; then a new tempest came, wilder than the first. In her mounting hysteria it occurred to Eve that Ken might have gone home with Puss if they were together; frantically she ran to the telephone, gave the number she had heard her husband call so many times.

"Yes?" Puss' voice sounded weak and frightened.

"Listen—is Ken over there?"

"Ken—oh—" A sob; a click as the receiver was hung up. Again and again Eve tried to get the connection, but always came the operator's answer, dim and far away under the roar of the storm, "They do not answer."

Ken was hurt—he was dying—that was why Puss had cried. There had been an accident; Ken wanted his wife, needed her—he was dying over there at Spring Garden.

Driven by frenzied imaginings and not at all knowing what she did, Eve threw Ken's slicker around her shoulders, found her old tam-o'-shanter and drew it on her head. She plunged into the rain, catching her breath, making her way against the wind to the garage. The top was up and the curtains on the car—glory be for that. She backed out on the drive, swung into the road, the engine coughing as if with indignation at the battle ahead, and began the drive to Spring Garden.

Not as long as she lived was Eve to forget that drive; times there would be when she would awaken from sleep, sick and trembling with dreams of a solid wall of water moving just ahead of two wheels turned to jelly in a foaming torrent of road, of a car teetering on the edge of an embankment, turning squarely around in a cross-roads whirlpool.

But tonight she knew no fear for her thought was all of Ken; Ken who needed her, who was waiting for her, calling her name. She was going to him; soon she would see him, put her arms around him. Soon now—very soon.

The car rolled coughing and sputtering into Spring Garden, stopped at the cottage where Puss lived. Chilled and shaking, Eve stumbled up the steps and went in without bothering to knock. Someone was sobbing in a room at the end of a little hall. Eve followed the sound, pushed back a door.

To Be Continued Monday.

Rev. F. J. McLeod has been tendered and has accepted a call as pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city, and will officiate tomorrow for the first time. The church has been without a pastor since Rev. W. J. Palm left. Rev. McLeod was formerly pastor at Bemidji.

M. J. Reilly is out of it as far as baseball is concerned. He was forced to resign as manager of the St. Cloud-Brainerd team for the reason that his assuming the management of the Brainerd Grocery company would not permit of his attending to baseball. A meeting of the fans was held in the office of Henry I. Cohen last night, and it was decided to elect J. B. Patterson of St. Cloud. He was called on the telephone, and accepted the management. Judge Sanborn, R. R. Wise and S. R. Adair were appointed a committee to get out and collect the contributions made when the committee first went around some time ago.

The baccalaureate sermon of the Brainerd high school will be preached by Rev. Harry W. Knowles on Sunday evening, June 4 at the First M. E. church.

F. B. Lynch who came up from St. Paul and went out to his summer home at Gull Lake yesterday to make preparations for opening it for the season, found on his arrival there that the place had been visited by house breakers sometime during the winter and practically stripped of its contents.

General Manager Gemmell of the Minnesota and International was in the city this morning on business, having returned from a trip over the line. W. A. M. Johnstone left for St. Cloud this afternoon where he will transact office business.

C. N. Parker and his granddaughter Miss Irma Parker left for St. Paul this afternoon for a few days visit.

Don't take a chance on Memorial Day

If you are one of the millions planning to take a week-end drive over Memorial Day, look to your tires.

Nothing wrecks the holiday frame of mind so completely as a struggle by the roadside with a tire change, while the stream of vacation traffic passes you by.

Maybe a new tube right now will save you this experience; maybe it's a new casing, or two, that you need to make sure.

Whatever it is, there's no place so well prepared and equipped to look after you as the nearest Goodyear Service Station Dealer.

Go see him now, he'll help you make an inspection of your tire equipment, and whether it's tires or tubes or service, he sells the world's best at prices you can afford to pay.

He's part and parcel of that combination of superior quality and superior service that makes "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

Goodyear can give you greater tire values because Goodyear builds more than

of all the tires used in America, the remainder being divided among some forty manufacturers. "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."

40 OF WORLD'S FASTEST RACING CARS TUNE UP FOR RACE

18TH ANNUAL MEMORIAL DAY RACING EVENT

DARING DRIVERS OF 19 CARS PLAN QUALIFICATION TRIALS TODAY

PROBABILITY THAT 12 OF THEM MAY BE ELIMINATED IN THE TESTS

By MARK H. KNIGHT
Indianapolis, May 28.—Forty-one of the world's fastest racing automobiles began their final "tuning up" today for the 18th annual 500-mile Memorial Day race over the Indianapolis speedway.

Daring drivers of 11 cars planned qualification trials today and tomorrow, with the probability that 12 of them will be eliminated through failure to maintain an average speed of 85 miles an hour for 10 miles. Thirty drivers already have qualified.

Race officials said they believed not more than 33 cars, the same number that competed in other recent years, will line up for the grind Friday. The allowed entry list was increased this year from 33 to 40, but several of the 44 drivers who announced they would enter have not appeared for the speedway tests.

The fastest time in the qualification trials was made by Bill Arnold, who averaged better than 113 miles an hour for the 10-mile test in his front drive Miller-Harts Special. Louis Mayer's Sampson Special went 111 miles an hour for second honors.

Among the qualifiers yesterday was Letterio Cucinotta, famous Italian racer, whose eight cylinder Maserati went 91.58 miles an hour in its four two and one-half-mile laps.

The qualifiers so far, with their speeds for the 10-mile test:

First row—Bill Arnold, front drive Miller-Harts Special, 113.263; Louis Mayer, Sampson Special, 111.290; Shorty Cantlon, Miller-Schofield Special, 109.810.

Second row—Louis Schneider, Bowes Seal-Fast Special, 106.107; Chester Gardner, Buckeye Special, 105.811; Ernie Triplett, Guberson Special, 105.619.

Third row—Russell Snowberger, Russell eight, 104.557; Phil Shafer, front drive Coleman Special, 102.279; Leslie Allen, Miller Products Special, 101.919.

Fourth row—Cy Marshall, Duesenberg Special, 100.846; Frank Farmer, Betholine Special, 100.615; Lou Moore, front drive Coleman Special, 99.867.

Fifth row—J. C. MacDonald, Romble Special, 98.953; Joe Caccia, Alberti Special, 97.606; Chester Miller, Fronty Special, 97.360.

Seventh row—Charles Moran, Jr.,

REINFORCMENTS

Dupont Special, 89.733; Tony Gulotta, Navv Special, 100.033; Peter De Paolo, Duesenberg Special, 99.956.
Eighth row—Bill Cummings, Duesenberg Special, 106.173; Melvin Kenney, Navv Special, 103.327; Jimmy Gleason, Waverly Oil Special, 93.709.
Ninth row—Joe Huff, Gauss front drive, 102.471; Letterio P. Cucinotta, Maserati Eight, 91.584.
Other probable qualifiers include Wilbur Shaw, Empire State Special; Babe Stapp, Duesenberg; Deacon Lilz, Duesenberg; Bill Gardner, car unnamed; E. Boracchini, Maserati Sixteen; Dave Evans, Jones-Maley Special; Harry Butcher, Butcher Brothers Special.

JOHNSON AND STREET PAIRED AS STAR PILOTS

WALTER JOHNSON IS MANAGING SENATORS, LEADING BY A 4-GAME MARGIN

STREET HAS GUIDED ST. LOUIS CARDINALS INTO NATIONAL LEAGUE LEAD

(By United Press)
Walter Johnson and Gabby Street, who teamed up more than 20 years ago to give Washington the best battery in major league baseball, are paired again this time as the star pilots of the 1930 pennant races.

Johnson is managing Washington and has his team out in front by a four-game margin. Street has guided the St. Louis Cardinals into the National League lead.

The Senators won their seventh straight game yesterday, defeating the New York Yankees, 7 to 2.

Pittsburgh broke St. Louis' eight-game winning streak, 8 to 5, but the Cards held their half game lead as Brooklyn also was defeated.

Bill Walker stopped Brooklyn, 3 to 1, and gave the New York Giants their first victory in six starts.

The Philadelphia Athletics kept pace in the American League with a 7 to 5 win over Boston.

Cleveland strengthened its hold on third place by defeating the Chicago White Sox in the second successive double-header, 3 to 2 and 9 to 8.

Relief Pitcher Vic Sorrell pitched four innings of no-hit ball after St. Louis had pounded four of his team mates for 11 runs, and the Detroit Tigers defeated the Browns, 16 to 11.

GIANTS 4TH TRADE BRINGS IN NEW PITCHER AND OUTFIELDER

EXCHANGED FOR INFELDER PAT CRAWFORD, $50,000 IS PRICE HINTED

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, May 28.—(U.P.)—More reinforcements were on their way to John J. McGraw today to help get the New York Giants out of second division and back into the national league pennant race.

The Giants' fourth trade brought Pitcher Pete Donohue and Outfielder Ethan Allen from Cincinnati in exchange for Infielder Pat Crawford. Although the Giants announced the deal was a straight trade, it is said that $50,000 was given the Reds.

Injuries, illness and misfortune have camped on the trail of the Giants since May 13.

Although the Giants broke a 5-game losing streak by defeating Brooklyn yesterday, 3-1, they have dropped 11 out of their last 14 games.

Donohue had served out his usefulness at Cincinnati, but McGraw may make a new pitcher out of him. He is only 30, and from 1922 through 1925 was one of the best in the national league. He won 21 games in 1923 and 1925 and 20 in 1926.

Allen, one of the fastest men in the league will greatly improve the defensive strength of the Giants' outfield. McGraw plans to play him in center field, with Roettger and Leach alternating in left field. Allen is 26, and has been with the Reds for 4 years. He batted .292 in 143 games last season.

out five hits and scored four runs in the last half of the twelfth inning yesterday and defeated Milwaukee, 6 to 5. The two teams were even at 2-all at the end of the eleventh.

Columbus, O., May 28.—Clouting out the offerings of four pitchers, Indianapolis took the second game of the series from Columbus here yesterday, 12 to 2.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 28.—Coming from behind to score three runs in their half of the ninth inning, the Kansas City Blues took the second game of the series with Minneapolis here yesterday, 4 to 3. McMillian's homer brought in the winning runs.

one major championship he has never held.
Roger Wethered, Tony Torrance, Major C. O. Hezlet and Tex Hartley all have been playing excellently this year and have good knowledge of the treacherous wind swept course at St. Andrews.

Jones was not the only American to find success in further play over the treacherous heather and sand.
Harrison R. ("Jimmy") Johnston of St. Paul, with some mighty poor golf behind him, took a 6 and 5 victory in the third round over Col. K. T. C. Moore-Brabazon.

George Von Elm of Detroit scored a 2 and 1 win over D. B. Anderson of St. Andrews.
Roland Mackenzie of Wilmington, Delaware, who byed in the first round and won his second round match by default, won over H. P. Holden of Sandiway, 6 and 4.

Francis Quimet of Boston made a brave comeback and won over A. G. Bower of Bromley, 1 up over 21 holes. Quimet was sticking to his wood-shafted wooden clubs to which he switched only Saturday.

George Voight of New York scored a 3 and 2 win over Major G. N. C. Martin of Portrush.

BOBBY JONES DEFEATS DEFENDING CHAMPION TOLLEY

U. S. PLAYER IS FAVORITE TO WIN BRITISH AMATEUR TOURNEY

SCORES VICTORY OVER BRITISH- ER BY 1 UP IN 19 HOLES

By ARCH RODGERS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
St. Andrews, Scotland, May 28.—Bobby Jones, number 1 U. S. golfer and the favorite to win the British amateur, passed his first big test today by defeating the defending champion, Cyril Tolley, of the Royal and Ancient Club, St. Andrews, by one up in 19 holes.

The battle was close throughout and at no time was either player more than one up.

The match was the second of the day for both players. Jones won in the fourth round over Cowan Shankland of St. Georges, 5 and 3, while Tolley was winning from W. Fowls of St. Andrews, 4 and 3.

The crowd of 5,000 was difficult to handle. Several were knocked down by their fellows.

Neither player had a sensational medal card. Jones was out in 39 and Tolley had 38 for the first half.

Jones was today still a long way from the championship. In addition to several excellent American players, there are several Britons still in Bobby's way before he can win the

The basis of leadership

READ again the familiar message on the back of the Camel package. . . Camel, introduced in 1913, when other cigarette brands were offering all sorts of premiums and similar inducements, jumped into leadership solely on the basis of its built-in goodness.

That statement, spread throughout the world each day on millions upon millions of Camel packages, stands as your guarantee of the maximum in smoke pleasure. It reaffirms on every package of Camels the steadfast aim to give smokers a cigarette in which every possible bit of the cost is put into real smoke-quality.

The delightful, natural fragrance of Camel's choicer tobaccos, combined in the smooth, mellow harmony of a blend beyond imitation—that's what made Camel the world's foremost cigarette—and keeps it just that.

40 OF WORLD'S FASTEST RACING CARS TUNE UP FOR RACE

18TH ANNUAL MEMORIAL DAY RACING EVENT

DARING DRIVERS OF 19 CARS PLAN QUALIFICATION TRIALS TODAY

PROBABILITY THAT 12 OF THEM MAY BE ELIMINATED IN THE TESTS

By MARK H. KNIGHT

Indianapolis, May 28.—Forty-one of the world's fastest racing automobiles began their final "tuning up" today for the 18th annual 500-mile Memorial Day race over the Indianapolis speedway.

Daring drivers of 19 cars planned qualification trials today and tomorrow, with the probability that 12 of them will be eliminated through failure to maintain an average speed of 85 miles an hour for 10 miles. Thirty drivers already have qualified.

Race officials said they believed not more than 33 cars, the same number that competed in other recent years, will line up for the grand Friday. The allowed entry list was increased this year from 33 to 40, but several of the 44 drivers who announced they would enter have not appeared for the speedway tests.

The fastest time in the qualification trials was made by Bill Arnold, who averaged better than 113 miles an hour for the 10-mile test in his front drive Miller-Harts Special. Louis Mayer's Sampson Special went 111 miles an hour for second honors.

Among the qualifiers yesterday was Letterio Cucinotta, famous Italian racer, whose eight cylinder Maserati went 91.58 miles an hour in its four two and one-half mile laps.

The qualifiers so far, with their speeds for the 10-mile test:

First row—Bill Arnold, front drive Miller-Harts Special, 113.268; Louis Mayer, Sampson Special, 111.290; Shorty Canton, Miller-Schofield Special, 109.810.

Second row—Louis Schneider, Bowes Seal-Fast Special, 106.107; Chester Gardner, Buckeye Special, 105.811; Ernie Triplett, Guiberson Special, 105.619.

Third row—Russell Snowberger, Russell eight, 104.557; Phil Shafer, front drive Coleman Special, 102.279; Leslie Allen, Miller Products Special, 101.919.

Fourth row—Cy Marshall, Duesenberg Special, 100.846; Frank Farmer, Betholine Special, 100.615; Lou Moore, front drive Coleman Special, 99.867.

Fifth row—J. C. MacDonald, Romie Special, 98.953; Joe Caccia, Alberti Special, 97.606; Chester Miller, Fronty Special, 97.360.

Seventh row—Charles Moran, Jr.,

Dupont Special, 89.733; Tony Gulotta, Navv Special, 100.033; Peter De Paolo, Duesenberg Special, 99.956.

Eighth row—Bill Cummings, Duesenberg Special, 106.173; Melvin Kenaly, Navv Special, 103.327; Jimmy Gleason, Waverly Oil Special, 93.709. Ninth row—Joe Huff, Gauss front drive, 102.471; Letterio P. Cucinotta, Maserati Eight, 91.584.

CARDINALS INTO NATIONAL LEAGUE LEAD
(By United Press)

Walter Johnson and Gabby Street, who teamed up more than 20 years ago to give Washington the best battery in major league baseball, are paired again this time as the star pilots of the 1930 pennant races.

Johnson is managing Washington and has his team out in front by a four-game margin. Street has guided the St. Louis Cardinals into the National League lead.

The Senators won their seventh straight game yesterday, defeating the New York Yankees, 7 to 2.

Pittsburgh broke St. Louis' eight-game winning streak, 8 to 5, but the Cards held their half game lead as Brooklyn also was defeated.

Bill Walker stopped Brooklyn, 3 to 1, and gave the New York Giants their first victory in six starts.

The Philadelphia Athletics kept pace in the American League with a 7 to 5 win over Boston.

Cleveland strengthened its hold on third place by defeating the Chicago White Sox in the second successive double-header, 3 to 2 and 9 to 8.

Relief Pitcher Vic Sorrell pitched four innings of no-hit ball after St. Louis had pounded four of his team mates for 11 runs, and the Detroit Tigers defeated the Browns, 16 to 11.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, May 28.—(UP)—More reinforcements were on their way to John J. McGraw today to help get the New York Giants out of second division and back into the national league pennant race.

The Giants' fourth trade brought Pitcher Pete Donohue and Outfielder Ethan Allen from Cincinnati in exchange for Infielder Pat Crawford. Although the Giants announced the deal was a straight trade, it is said that $50,000 was given the Reds.

Injuries, illness and misfortune have camped on the trail of the Giants since May 13.

Although the Giants broke a 5-game losing streak by defeating Brooklyn yesterday, 3-1, they have dropped 11 out of their last 14 games.

Donohue had served out his usefulness at Cincinnati, but McGraw may make a new pitcher out of him. He is only 30, and from 1922 through 1926 was one of the best in the national league. He won 21 games in 1923 and 1925 and 20 in 1926.

Allen, one of the fastest men in the league will greatly improve the defensive strength of the Giants' outfield. McGraw plans to play him in center field, with Roettger and Leach alternating in left field. Allen is 26, and has been with the Reds for 4 years. He batted .292 in 143 games last season.

out five hits and scored four runs in the last half of the twelfth inning yesterday and defeated Milwaukee, 6 to 5. The two teams were even at 2-all at the end of the eleventh.

Columbus, O., May 28.—Clouting out the offerings of four pitchers, Indianapolis took the second game of the series from Columbus here yesterday, 12 to 2.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 28.—Coming from behind to score three runs in their half of the ninth inning, the Kansas City Blues took the second game of the series with Minneapolis here yesterday, 4 to 3. McMillan's homer brought in the winning runs.

BOBBY JONES DEFEATS DEFENDING CHAMPION TOLLEY

U. S. PLAYER IS FAVORITE TO WIN BRITISH AMATEUR TOURNEY

SCORES VICTORY OVER BRITISH-
ER BY 1 UP IN 19
HOLES

By ARCH RODGERS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
St. Andrews, Scotland, May 28.—Bobby Jones, number 1 U. S. golfer and the favorite to win the British amateur, passed his first big test today by defeating the defending champion, Cyril Tolley, of the Royal and Ancient Club, St. Andrews, by one up in 19 holes.

The battle was close throughout and at no time was either player more than one up.

The match was the second of the day for both players. Jones won in the fourth round over Cowan Shankland of St. Georges, 5 and 3, while Tolley was winning from W. Fowles of St. Andrews, 4 and 3.

The crowd of 5,000 was difficult to handle. Several were knocked down by their fellows.

Neither player had a sensational medal card. Jones was out in 39 and Tolley had 38 for the first half.

Jones was today still a long way from the championship. In addition to several excellent American players, there are several Britons still in Bobby's way before he can win the one major championship he has never held.

Roger Wethered, Tony Torrance, Major C. O. Hezlet and Tex Hartley all have been playing excellently this year and have good knowledge of the treacherous wind swept course at St. Andrews.

Jones was not the only American to find success in further play over the treacherous heather and sand. Harrison R. ("Jimmy") Johnston of St. Paul, with some mighty poor golf behind him, took a 6 and 5 victory in the third round over Col. K. T. C. Moore-Brabazon.

George Von Elm of Detroit scored a 2 and 1 win over D. B. Anderson of St. Andrews.

Roland Mackenzie of Wilmington, Delaware, who byed in the first round and won his second round match by default, won over H. P. Holden of Sandiway, 6 and 4.

Francis Quimet of Boston made a brave comeback and won over A. G. Bower of Bromley, 1 up over 21 holes. Quimet was sticking to his wood-shafted wooden clubs to which he switched only Saturday.

George Voigt of New York scored a 3 and 2 win over Major G. N. C. Martin of Portrush.

The basis of leadership

Don't look for premiums or coupons, as the cost of the tobaccos blended in CAMEL Cigarettes prohibits the use of them.

MANUFACTURED BY R.J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO. WINSTON-SALEM, N.C.

READ again the familiar message on the back of the Camel package. . . Camel, introduced in 1913, when other cigarette brands were offering all sorts of premiums and similar inducements, jumped into leadership solely on the basis of its built-in goodness.

That statement, spread throughout the world each day on millions upon millions of Camel packages, stands as your guarantee of the maximum in smoke pleasure. It reaffirms on every package of Camels the steadfast aim to give smokers a cigarette in which every possible bit of the cost is put into real smoke-quality.

The delightful, natural fragrance of Camel's choicer tobaccos, combined in the smooth, mellow harmony of a blend beyond imitation—that's what made Camel the world's foremost cigarette—and keeps it just that.
